

POOLE SENDS RESIGNATION FROM HOSPITAL, FOLLOWING STURDIVANT INTO RETIREMENT

Congress Convenes, Tackles Arms Issue

OATH OF OFFICE IS ADMINISTERED TO NEW MEMBERS

Vice President Garner Calls Senate to Order at Noon; Organization Tasks Are Completed and Business Is Begun.

ROBINSON ENTERS WITH VANDENBERG

Senate and House Will Convene in Joint Session Today To Receive Roosevelt's Annual Message.

By RICHARD L. TURNER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Congress convened today, combining traditional ceremony with the easy informality of a family reunion, prepared to tackle its first task of 1937—legislation slapping a swift embargo on arms shipments for Spain's savage civil war.

Administration leaders of both houses will introduce tomorrow an administration-approved resolution, have it referred at once to waiting committees and push it through with all possible speed to cut off a $2,977,000 cargo of airplanes intended for the Madrid Loyalists.

Robert Cuse, Jersey City exporter, was racing to load the airplanes aboard a steamer at New York before Congress can act. State Department officials said. They also disclosed that a second munitions dealer, Richard L. Dineley, of San Francisco, was planning to ship $4,507,000 worth of planes, rifles, machine guns and ammunition to the Loyalists.

Both Cuse and Dineley have obtained export licenses from the State Department, which, though opposed to granting them, is powerless under the present neutrality law.

With brief sessions, conducted between crescendos of conversation, both houses today perfected the machinery for rushing the neutrality measure to enactment, for receiving President Roosevelt's annual message in joint session tomorrow, and pursuing the year's legislative program. The President will deliver his message in person.

Senate Called to Order.

Promptly at noon, Vice President Garner called the senate to order, while simultaneously South Trimble, clerk of the house, convened that branch of congress. Organization tasks were completed with dispatch. But even before tapping gavel signals the beginning of the session, the members were milling about their respective chambers, greeting old friends, welcoming new colleagues, and creating a conversational din that only persistence could quell.

Frock coats were noticeably few and seemed in greater abundance among the new members than with the old timers. Such familiar senatorial figures as Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, McNary, the Republican leader, and Vice President Garner seemed thin.

Robinson entered the chamber in

Flying in Spain Too Perilous; Adventurous Airman Returns

Soldier of Fortune Relates Close Brushes With Death in Antiquated Loyalist Craft and at Point of Superior Officer's Gun.

Major Frederick Lord, war flyer and soldier of fortune, found that flying with the Spanish Loyalists involved fighting not only the enemy but his own officers. In the following exclusive dispatch he describes his experiences.

By MAJOR FREDERICK LORD.

Noted American Aviator.

(Copyright, 1937, by United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 5.—I have looked down 12 Spanish rifle barrels, with my back to the wall, and counted my seconds to live.

I have been within an ace of death at the point of a pistol held by my own commander—after I had brought down an antique plane safely when the wing snapped off.

Once my plane was riddled by German machine gun bullets from a sky full of crack, modern Heinkels.

A motorboat pilot, smuggling me into France, was shot dead at his steering wheel off the Rebel coast and I was forced to return to Bilbao.

And I spent 18 hours in the Port Bou jail.

But, somehow, here I am to tell my story of fighting for the Loyalists in Spain.

Headed American Flyers.

As head of a squadron of Americans, including Bert Acosta, Hal Du Berrier, Eddie Schneider and Gordon Barry, I sailed from New York—not very appropriately—on Armistice Day and arrived on the Europa November 17. I took an Air France plane to Alicante and motored to Valencia.

At first nobody knew what to do with me and my men. We were shut out from one airport to another for ten days without flying. Finally, we got to Barcelona, from where we flew across France to Santander. It seems that our pilots could fly over French territory as much as they liked.

I reported for duty December 2 at Bilbao, where a suspicious and hostile commander immediately wanted to see whether I could fly. This seemed a little foolish for a flyer who had been in the air since he fought with the white Russian army, but I felt worse than that when I saw the 1925 Breguet in which I was supposed to fight.

It was an aged, two-seat bomber

Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

BERLIN PROMISES TO HALT ATTACK ON SPANISH SHIPS

Germany Gives Valencia 3 Days To Free Palos' Cargo or Two Seized Steamers Will Be Turned Over to Insurgents.

LEFTISTS REFUSE NAZI ULTIMATUM

Rebels Agree to Respect British Shipping Off Gibraltar, But Not in Other Zones of Danger.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Palos incident will be considered closed by Germany by 8 a. m. Friday no matter what the Spanish Valencia government may decide to do, highly reliable informants made known tonight.

If the Spanish passenger and the sequestered cargo of the Nazi freighter are released from Bilbao by that time, well and good—no apologies will be asked, this informant said.

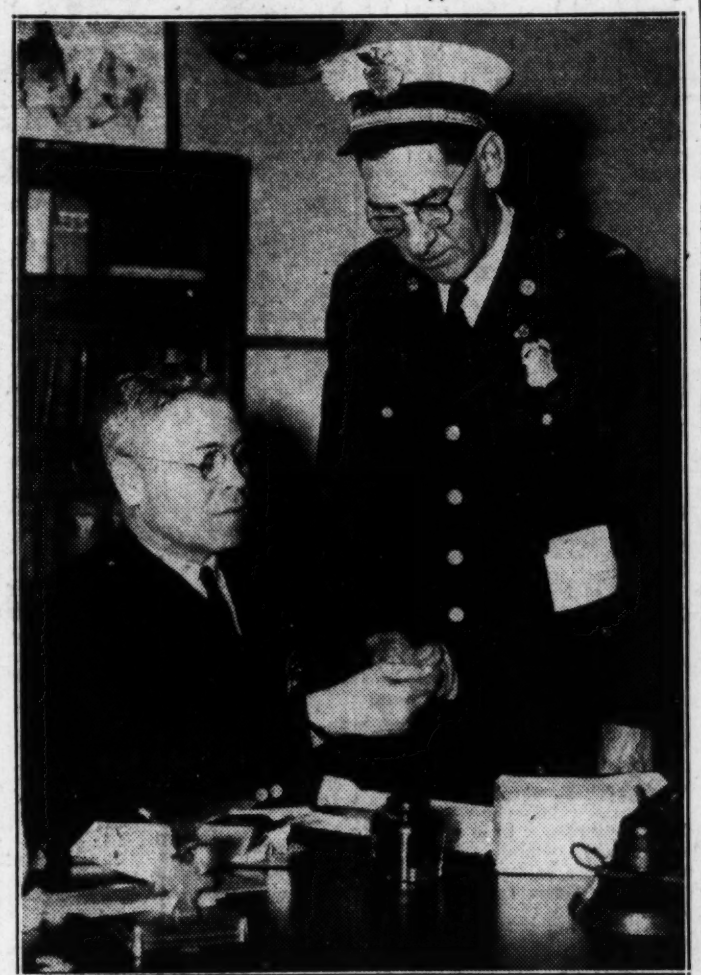

If Valencia ignores the ultimatum (which Bilbao officials said it would), Germany will turn over two Spanish steamers held by Nazi warships to Fascist insurgents.

Thereafter there will be no further reprisals because of the Palos, it was stated—his "bloodless settlement" will be considered an end to the threat of war, which many feared might result.

Marshall Werner Goering, air minister; Colonel General Werner von Fritsch, army chief of staff, and Adolf Hitler, Reich chancellor, were present.

Continued in Page 8, Column 3.

Sturdivant Turns Over Office to Hornsby

The new and the old. Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant, on leave of absence until February 1, when his resignation becomes effective, turning over to M. A. Hornsby, left, his successor and acting chief until February 1, an old chief's badge.

BREAK IMPENDING IN MATTSON CASE TO EMBARGO ARMS

Officials Keep Hands-Off Pledge; Boy's Return Is Expected Momentarily.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The family of kidnapped Charles Mattson cleared a path again today for dealing with his abductor and indicated it was expecting momentarily a development—possibly payment of the $25,000 ransom or release of the 10-year-old boy.

Certain officials guardedly conceded they were looking for a "break" at any minute.

The government's carefully concealed army of manhunters apparently continued to keep its hands off the case in accordance with the plea of the father, Dr. W. W. Mattson.

Reappearance of a personal assurance offered the abductor assurance the family had received his messages and that "channels are entirely clear."

Definitely known to have been published on behalf of Dr. W. W. Mattson, it was assumed by observers to be a notice the ransom would be paid soon.

Friends of the family mentioned as possible intermediaries made several visits to the Mattson home last night and today. Among them were Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Gus Appel, Paul Seera and others.

The family itself clung to the routine it has followed a week. Dr. Mattson made his usual morning trip to his office, William and Muriel Mattson remained away from their school classes, and Mrs. Mattson, mother of the missing boy, stayed indoors.

Progress of the case became increasingly difficult to follow as officers ceased their activities. Dr. Mattson requested the halt yesterday to leave all avenues open for payment of the ransom and return of the boy.

State police immediately complied by stopping a widespread hunt for suspects near Shelton, Wash., and Department of Justice Agents announced they also had complied. Tacoma city

Continued in Page 2, Column 8.

Mayor Hartsfield Fulfills Pledges Within 24 Hours

Lieutenant M. A. Hornsby Named Acting Chief of Department; Promises Co-operation With New Atlanta Administration.

'DIVES AND JOINTS' TARGET FOR DRIVE

Detective Department 'Dead Wood' to Face Ax; Committee Will 'Weed Out' Supernumerary List

A cleanup of rampant crime "dives and joints" and lottery operations in Atlanta was pledged by Acting Police Chief M. A. Hornsby yesterday as he assumed full control of the police and detective departments following the resignations of Chief T. O. Sturdivant and Assistant Chief A. Lamar Poole.

As the new chief prepared to direct a campaign against crime conditions, the 1937 police committee laid further plans for Mayor Hartsfield's promised changes in the police department with the co-operation of Hornsby.

Called from his bed at noon yesterday to succeed Sturdivant and to take over Poole's duties, Hornsby was sworn in by the 1937 police committee at the police station.

He indicated his first move within the police department would be to eliminate "dead wood" in the detective department, reducing to patrolmen those whose records are poor.

Under present plans of the Hartsfield administration, Acting Chief Hornsby will retain control of the detective department permanently.

Given Free Hand. Hornsby was told by Alderman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of the new police committee, that he would be "left alone to operate the police department as he sees fit" and would be held responsible for its operation.

The police committee, which yesterday ousted Patrolman J. S. Melton, who was recently reinstated, ordered

Continued in Page 2, Column 5.

Railways Open Fight For Rate Hikes Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Class 1 railroads, those which carry most of the nation's passenger and freight traffic, will open a fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow for general freight rate revisions which would add more than $75,000,000 to their revenues.

The carriers believe approval of the proposed rates would restore 62 percent of the $10,000,000 monthly income they lost when the Interstate Commerce Commission, on January 1, abolished emergency freight rates granted 22 months ago to tide the railroads through the depression.

A. P. Cleveland, vice president of the association, discounted the commission's belief that increased traffic under the reduced rates will partially offset loss of the surcharges. "We said that railroads must expand their facilities and pay rolls to provide service for added traffic, increasing their operating costs to a point which would mitigate against added revenues."

James Hall, a negro, charged the policeman beat him severely over the head with a blackjack after he had refused to admit stealing some coal. Hardeman and his partner, Charles Wright, both testified the negro was not beaten and that neither officer possessed a blackjack. Hall was acquitted when tried in recorder's court and his companion, who was arrested with him December 30, was given a $10 suspended sentence for idling and loitering.

Continued in Page 2, Column 1.

Patrolman Is Held On Assault Charge

Radio Patrolman C. D. Hardeman yesterday was bound over to criminal court of Atlanta under $100 bond on charges of assault and battery by Judge Luther Z. Rosser following a commitment hearing in municipal court.

James Hall, a negro, charged the policeman beat him severely over the head with a blackjack after he had refused to admit stealing some coal. Hardeman and his partner, Charles Wright, both testified the negro was not beaten and that neither officer possessed a blackjack. Hall was acquitted when tried in recorder's court and his companion, who was arrested with him December 30, was given a $10 suspended sentence for idling and loitering.

Continued in Page 2, Column 1.

RIVERS' INAUGURAL PARIS AND LONDON MAP WAR TACTICS

Russell To Give Oath of Office on Washington Street Side of Capital.

The inauguration of Governor Rivers at noon next Tuesday will take place on the Washington street side of the capital with Chief Justice Richard B. Russell Sr., of the supreme court, administering Governor Rivers' oath of office, legislative leaders announced yesterday.

A platform will be erected outside the capitol and the entire area will be roped off for spectators. Adjutant General Jack Stoddard has been placed in charge of the arrangements.

The new Governor will give the oaths of office to State Treasurer George B. Hamilton and Comptroller General William B. Harrison. These will follow immediately after Rivers' inaugural address.

President-elect John B. Spivey, of the senate, and Speaker-elect Roy V. Harris, of the house of representatives, said yesterday that they were preparing a special committee to escort Rivers to the platform.

If the weather is unfavorable the inaugural will be held in the hall of the house of representatives.

"Bright Day in Georgia." "The prospects for good weather are brightened by the fact that it has been raining for days," Senator Spivey said. "If this continues we will all be washed away. We can only hope for a bright day. It will be a bright day for Georgia, even though it rains."

The Governor-elect attended the inauguration of his friend, Governor Fred Cone, of Florida, at Tallahassee yesterday. He will return to his home at Lakeland this morning. There he plans to spend today and tomorrow completing his inaugural address. He will join members of the general assembly in a visit Friday to the various state institutions at Milledgeville, and be the guest of honor at the annual

Continued in Page 2, Column 7.

COBB MAPS DRIVE FOR $3,500 AWARD

Winning of Constitution Prize To Be Major Goal of Kiwanis Club for '37.

MARIETTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—Cobb county's governmental improvement program to take the $3,500 first award in The Atlanta Constitution's $7,500 Progressive Government Awards for 1937 will be evolved within the next few days, it was announced today.

Charles M. Heard, newly installed commissioner of the county, and members of the Marietta and Cobb County Kiwanis club are co-operating in the movement designed to insure Cobb county's place in the fore of other Georgia counties.

Ralph Howell, president of the Kiwanis club, has asked the public affairs committee of the organization to make the Progressive Government Awards one of the major activities of the group for the year, and Cobb county's program will be considered at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club to be held at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, January 14, at the "Y" building.

Chess Abernathy Jr., editor of the Cobb County Times, and James Carmichael, Cobb county attorney and Cobb representative in the general assembly, will assist in mapping plans for the meeting and in drafting Cobb county's progressive program.

Members of the public affairs committee of the Kiwanis Club are Jack Benson, chairman; John Calhoun, Cobb county tax collector; Jordan Gardner and Dr. Ralph Fowler.

Continued in Page 2, Column 8.

Grady Physicians Winning Battle To Save Boy Haemophilia Victim

Suffering from haemophilia, a rare malady which causes profuse bleeding, Paul Jones, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Jones, of Whitesburg, was reported improved last night at Grady hospital.

The child was admitted to the hospital Monday. Through the injection into the blood-stream of thein, a glandular extract, the bleeding has almost been halted, it was said at the hospital.

Little Paul's bleeding began Christmas day when he tripped and fell at his home, injuring his chin and lower lip. Efforts to stop the bleeding proved unavailing, and last Friday it became more profuse.

Resident physicians, parents of the child sought aid from "conjure" doc-

The News at a Glance

IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Clip this each day and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. January 6, 1937.

resigning from hospital.	Page 1	FOREIGN.
Acting Chief Hornsby says "dives" will be cleaned out.	Page 1	Germany promises to halt attacks on Spanish hosts.	Page 1
Chief Justice Russell will give oath to Rivers Tuesday.	Page 1	British, French general staff to map war plans.	Page 1
Talmadge may let Rivers fix expenditures of highway board.	Page 3	Pope's illness forces cardinals to stay at Vatican.	Page 2
Heart attack causes fatal T. O. Marshall crash.	Page 10	SPORTS.
U. S. changes penal administrative system, switches officials.	Page 7	Buildings to dedicate Orange Bowl stadium December 10 against Miami Hurricanes.	Page 6
STATE.		Perry given little chance against Vines in Garden tonight.	Page 6
Brown to continue policies of state college extension service.	Page 15	Grant, Reese advance at Coral Gables.	Page 6
Troup county board organizes for 1937.	Page 15	Break o' Day by Ralph McGill.	Page 6
Bolton man killed in crash at Acworth.	Page 15	Travis Jackson signs to manage Jersey City.	Page 7
Flood danger passes as Georgia rivers fall.	Page 16	FEATURES.
Third escaped prisoner recaptured in Cobb county.	Page 15	Editorial page.	Page 4
DOMESTIC.		Pierre Van Passen	Hollywood Today
Congress convenes, tackles arms issue.	Page 1	Paul Malhot	Robert Quillen
Congress in race with shipper to halt planes for Spain.	Page 1	Walter J. Weller	Baldern & Weller
Break impending in Mattson kidnapping.	Page 1	Westbrook Pugler	Dr. Louis D. Newton
American aviator tells of work in Spain.	Page 1	Radio programs.	Page 7
Gangster gets 40 years 16 hours after capture.	Page 16	Theater programs.	Page 7
		Society.	Page 8, 10
		Friendly Counsel.	Page 10
		My Day.	Page 10
		Mignon.	Page 10
		Comics.	Page 11
		Across-word puzzle.	Page 11
		"Romance Preferred."	Page 11
		Tarzan.	Page 14
		Culbertson on bridge	Page 16

Illness of Pope Pius Keeps Cardinals Near

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Cardinals heading congregations or executive departments of the Roman Catholic church have been asked not to leave Rome or Vatican City because of Pope Pius' illness, a reliable source said tonight.

The 79-year-old pontiff was raised almost in a sitting position in his bed in an effort by his physician, Dr. Amintore Milani, to overcome some of the difficulty he experienced in breathing because of asthma, one of the ailments from which he suffers.

He was given an injection to stimulate his kidney action, and Dr. Milani ordered that this be repeated every four days.

Pius suffered continuing pains in his swollen legs, which were partly paralyzed. He slept only fitfully last night.

Naval Secretary Faints At Cabinet Gathering

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Secretary of Navy Claude A. Swanson fainted in the east room of the White House tonight before the President's cabinet dinner and was assisted to his home. It was explained that the secretary was fatigued by long standing among the dinner guests. He was ill much of last year.

The Weather

Atlanta—Rain warmer. Georgia—Cloudy, occasional rain in north and central portions Wednesday, showers Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

ATLANTA—One year ago today, January 8, 1936: High 53; low 45; rain.

STATIONS	TEMPERATURE	RELATIVE HUMIDITY	WIND	RAIN
ATLANTA, misting	42	42	42	42
Birmingham, cloudy	41	41	41	41
Boston, clear	40	40	40	40
Buffalo, clear	39	39	39	39
Charlotte, clear	38	38	38	38
Chicago, cloudy	37	37	37	37
Cincinnati, clear	36	36	36	36
Cleveland, clear	35	35	35	35
Dallas, clear	34	34	34	34
Denver, clear	33	33	33	33
Detroit, clear	32	32	32	32
El Paso, clear	31	31	31	31
Houston, clear	30	30	30	30
Kansas City, clear	29	29	29	29
Los Angeles, clear	28	28	28	28
Madison, clear	27	27	27	27
Memphis, clear	26	26	26	26
Minneapolis, clear	25	25	25	25
Mobile, clear	24	24	24	24
Montgomery, clear	23	23	23	23
New Orleans, clear	22	22	22	22
New York, clear	21	21	21	21
Oakland, clear	20	20	20	20
Philadelphia, clear	19	19	19	19
Pittsburgh, clear	18	18	18	18
Raleigh, clear	17	17	17	17
San Francisco, clear	16	16	16	16
St. Louis, clear	15	15	15	15
San Antonio, clear	14	14	14	14
Seattle, clear	13	13	13	13
Tampa, clear	12	12	12	12
Washington, clear	11	11	11	11

Lost and Found
When an honest person finds something you've lost, he wants to find you too. A "Lost and Found" ad in the WANTED PAGE of the Constitution will bring you together. Call WALNUT 5555... An Ad-Taker will list your ad. You may "charge it."

ROOSEVELT MAY ASK $700,000,000 MORE FOR FEDERAL RELIEF

President Expected to Request Appropriation in Budget Message.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A treasury report showed today that should relief spending continue at the pace of the last six months, President Roosevelt will need $700,000,000 more for the rest of this fiscal year ending next June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt's budget message Friday is expected to request an appropriation to bolster depleted funds. The results, however, may be less than the total needed for the remainder of the year, because funds may be transferred from other agencies to make up the deficiency.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated some time ago he would ask about $500,000,000, but later made known that funds might be transferred to augment this.

Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, generally has been understood to favor $750,000,000, and the United States conference of mayors recently asked $877,000,000.

Unexpended Balance. The treasury's report for the first six months of this fiscal year showed today that $1,019,563,000 had been spent for work relief, leaving a $320,013,000 unexpended balance.

Thus, similar spending during the second half of this year would call for $699,550,000 of additional funds. The drought caused a heavy drain on relief funds during the first six months, but this may be matched by the winter relief load in January and February.

As in past years, Mr. Roosevelt's budget is expected to separate ordinary or general government expenditures from those for "recovery and relief."

Revised Estimates. The deficiency relief appropriation will be included in revised budget estimates for the full 1937-38 year. The President will delay until later his relief forecast for the full 1937-38 year.

Fiscal officials predicted today a balanced "ordinary budget" will be shown in Mr. Roosevelt's message Friday. They pointed out that receipts for the first half of this year overbalanced ordinary expenditures by $32,000,000.

The possibility of increased tax revenues plus heavier repayments to lending agencies has led to some speculation that the budget, even including emergency expenditures, may be balanced during the next fiscal year.

POOLE, STURDIVANT TENDER RESIGNATIONS

Continued From First Page.

of the police committee, telling him that the requests in Poole's resignation would be carried out and that he would be allowed to resign as assistant chief.

The only other official act of the committee last night was to call in all police badges except those in use by members of the police department.

Poole's resignation was signed by him at the Georgia Baptist hospital, where he is confined by illness. It was announced by his son, Douglas Poole, a police detective, who yesterday afternoon had a conference with Hartsfield at the city hall.

Both Sturdivant and Poole are expected to make immediate application for pensions. Sturdivant is a veteran of 27 years, will draw $80 per month, while Poole, who has served more than

Sturdivant Tenders Resignation --- Old Regime Ends and Past Buried --- Hornsby Becomes Acting Chief

Constitution Staff Photo—Corsett.

Mayor Hartsfield, Chief T. O. Sturdivant and members of the police committee gathered today for the chief's resignation before Hartsfield. Committee Chairman Bridges is seated with the two, while Committee men John T. Marler, C. M. Bolen and Cecil W. Hester look on.

35 years, will probably draw $100 a month under pension rules, committee men said.

Events in Hartsfield's promised clean up of the police department came with surprising swiftness yesterday. The police committee in a session at the mayor's office accepted Sturdivant's voluntary resignation and upon motion of Councilman C. M. (Mac) Bolen, voted to allow him full pay until February 1.

Both Poole and Sturdivant asked for leaves of absence until the effective date of their resignations.

Poole Resignation. Resignation of the two were almost identical in wording. Poole's read: "I hereby tender my resignation as assistant chief of police and chief of detectives, and my resignation from the police department of the city of Atlanta, such resignation to become effective February 1, 1937. I ask that I be granted a leave of absence from the date of acceptance of this resignation until its effective date."

Sturdivant's was similar except as to titles.

Developments came thick and fast as Hartsfield spent his first day in the mayor's office following his inauguration Monday night.

As the first steps of his promised police department clean-up achieved success surprisingly quickly, all within 24 hours of his inauguration, Mayor Hartsfield prepared today to turn to even weightier problems, those of solving the financial dilemma of the city.

Finance Meeting Today. He is scheduled to attend the first session of the important finance committee, which Alderman Ed A. Gilliam heads, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the subject of January finances will be taken up.

All members of the budget commission will also be present at this meeting and discussion of this matter will be taken up.

At his desk, Hartsfield was kept busy yesterday receiving the many visitors who came to wish him a successful administration. His office was packed with flowers.

Early in the day he attended a called meeting of the police committee, which after a brief conference, received Sturdivant, who immediately handed in his resignation. It and the appointment of Hornsby as acting chief were approved unanimously by Hartsfield, Bridges, Councilman C. M. (Mac) Bolen, John T. Marler and Cecil W. Hester, the new police committee men.

Scene at Hospital. It was a dramatic moment as Poole moved to tender his resignation. He had sent for Bridges and his son, Douglas Poole, and the two visitors

Constitution Staff Photo—Corsett.

The sound and the fury dies and Mayor Hartsfield and Chief Sturdivant shake hands . . . a 27-year service ends in the first day of a new regime. Removal of Sturdivant and Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole was a major plank on Hartsfield's campaign for the mayoralty.

New Police Chief Bans Heroics, Prepares to Cleanup Department

Hornsby, Minus Fanfare, Proposes to Eliminate Just Criticism; Parting With Sturdivant Made Cordial by Presentation of Badge.

By LAMAR Q. BALL.

Two simple means of judging Atlanta's new chief of police were:

1. Take a look at him.
2. Listen to him tell you:

"I propose to eliminate all just criticism of Atlanta's police department."

No heroics, no fanfare, no invitation from him in word or gesture to "sit back, boys, and look at a self-made man who has finally won what he has been deserving for years."

No wasted words he answers a question and turns back to his work. Ask him another question and he seems surprised at the garb of the average human being. He looks up as though he wonders who the district attorney is who has slipped into his office. But, he responds pleasantly with an answer that is brief, to the point and invites no rejoinder.

M. A. Hornsby is only 45 years old. His hair has grayed some at the edges, and that is easy to understand for he has been on the police department for a bit more than 23 years. His movements are quick, but not the jerky quickness that bespeaks nervousness.

"No Sudden Changes." Taxpayers who are interested in the police affairs of Atlanta would be encouraged to hear him say: "I plan no sudden changes. I plan no drives. Whatever reorganization the department needs will be accomplished without upsetting the morale of the entire department."

"I have not considered my new duties to the extent that I can make any statement as to just what I plan to do."

"I can only say that I plan to eliminate all just criticism of the department. No man can eliminate unjust criticism. Every individual and every organization always will be subject to unjust criticism. All that anyone can do is to stop just criticism by conducting himself properly."

He turned back to his work.

"How do you propose to accomplish everything that everyone has been suggesting for all these months?" "I can't say. I hope to work sensibly and accomplish my work gradually."

The retiring chief, T. O. Sturdivant, had been working with Hornsby most of the time since he was named as his successor.

"Chief," said Chief Sturdivant, "here is an old badge I found when I cleaned out the safe upstairs some time ago. It was the badge of an apparently an old department issue and the good Lord only knows how many chiefs have worn it. I saved it and I'm giving it to you. I've been wearing my own badge."

Rube Up Old Badge. Sturdivant displayed a gold badge set with a diamond which could support him easily for six months or more.

Chief Hornsby took the badge, along side of that of any chief of police Atlanta has ever had.

Chief Sturdivant had been a member of the police department for 27 years, since coming here from Sharon, Ga., where he was born. He was married to a woman who was 30 years his senior when he became an Atlanta patrolman December 16, 1909.

He was made a detective in 1923 and a year later was elected lieutenant in that department. He succeeded former Chief James L. Beavers as chief April 30, 1932.

His career as head of the police force has been a stormy one and many attacks have been made upon him. He was brought to trial a year ago but was acquitted and reinstated as chief. Hornsby was named acting chief to succeed him when he was under suspension at that time.

Poole has been a member of the department more than 35 years and his career in the department was even more turbulent than the chief's. Once before council abolished the position of assistant chief and Poole was demoted to the ranks. Later, under a new mayor, he was reinstated and the position re-created.

Mayor Hartsfield's first official act of the day was to approve a resolution by Councilman J. Allen Couch congratulating Herman Hancock, Constitution reporter, on a promotion. It was approved by council Monday night.

Pardons To Be Reduced. As Joe Gregg, Hartsfield's executive secretary, assumed his new duties, he announced that granting of pardons to persons in the stocks will be materially reduced and that only those recommended by the recorder will be considered.

Mrs. Mabel Shelton, niece of the mayor, acted as his secretary during the day and will work with him until the appointment of a regular secretary is made soon. The mayor has selected the chief but as yet, he said, he did not use the new car bought by the city for the mayor at last yesterday, riding to and from the office in his own automobile.

The mayor's short conferences with a number of members of the 1937 council during the day, in addition to his session with the police committee. Many department heads visited him and pledged co-operation in the work of the city government.

The new mayor sent many of the flowers he received to be placed on the grave of his mother in West View cemetery. He has her picture before him on his desk and once during the campaign he said "I will never do a wrong that I know to be a wrong while that face watches me."

The Atlanta Club, composed of women employees at the city hall, presented Hartsfield a bouquet in congratulating him. Mrs. Etta Rhamstine, president, promised the co-operation of the club members.

Tired and worn in appearance from the strenuous activity of his inauguration and first day, Hartsfield said he would be in the city hall tomorrow. Finances are the hardest to solve, not the police.

Constitution Staff Photo—Stanton.

A new regime begins at the police station as Acting Chief of Police M. A. Hornsby takes the oath of office from C. C. Brooks, police secretary, as Committee Chairman Dan Bridges looks on. It was the second time that Hornsby had stepped in to take over in an emergency.

To Plan F. D. R. Dances

Benton, Minus Fanfare, Proposes to Eliminate Just Criticism; Parting With Sturdivant Made Cordial by Presentation of Badge.

By LAMAR Q. BALL.

rubbed it clean on his cuff and laid it on the desk before him. He shook hands cordially with Sturdivant, who walked out of the office with his son, T. O. Sturdivant Jr., a telephone operator at headquarters.

"Hired you ever been in any tough battles?" the new chief was asked and he gave his glibly questioner a look which caused the questioner to stammer and utter an apology and grope nervously for a cigarette.

"Don't try to glorify me," he warned. "I've been an active policeman but I'm not talking about all that. I'd rather you wouldn't question me along that line."

The day and the night shifts were reaching at 4:30 p. m., when he was reaching the end of an eventful day and policemen were swarming in to congratulate their new commander.

He met them all with warm handshakes but appeared restless when the congratulatory became too voluble. He was embarrassed.

Yesterday was the second time that Chief Hornsby had been summoned from bed and ordered to take over the police department, but in a short talk with Alderman Bridges said he will begin his work against crime immediately.

Hartsfield has asked that the police department eliminate "dives and joints" that handle alcoholic beverages and it was anticipated that Hornsby's first blow will be struck against them.

Complaints against a number of places selling beer and wine have already been received by Alderman Bridges and he requested Hornsby to investigate them at once.

Hornsby, when acting chief a year ago during Sturdivant's suspension, directed raiding squads which "closed up the town."

Disorderly Places Target. It was understood that the first step will be taken by police in closing up places handling alcoholic beverages where frequent disorders occur.

Hornsby did not announce a definite plan of action but assured Bridges he was entirely willing to co-operate with the Hartsfield policies.

As Bridges and C. C. Brooks, secretary of the police department, prepared to swear Hornsby in as acting chief, Bridges said "You are familiar with the platform of the Hartsfield administration. Are you prepared to carry that out?"

The alderman mentioned that he thought "there are too many men in the detective department" and Hornsby replied, "I do too."

Both the committee chairman and the new chief said that "men in the detective department who are not producing, as their records will show, will be placed back in uniform."

Chief Hornsby is known as a fighter against law violators at all times. He will conduct no "drive" against crime because, he says, that word implies a short-lived, spurt of a campaign while his war on crime will be a continuous one.

To Raise Requirements. Drinking by policemen will not be tolerated by the new committee members said. They intend to raise the standard of requirement for policemen and will eliminate many of those now on the list, they asserted.

There are 118 supernumeraries. Fifty of them have been on the list for more than six months, which under civil service rules entitles them to trial before dismissal. The remainder will be considered for a position as policeman, it was said. The requirements will be made more strict and it was expected that a stiffer examination will be used.

AMATEUR STATIONS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Communications Commission reported today 46,850 amateur radio stations had been licensed to last July 1. The commission's annual report also showed that only two air lines carrying mail and passengers were not equipped for two-way radio communication.

CONGRESS CONVENES, PREPARES ARMS LAW

Continued From First Page.

laughing conversation with Senator Vandenberg, prominent Republican. Senator Glass, of Virginia, and Senator Nye, of North Dakota, who figured in one of last session's most pointed personal exchanges, created a flurry by cordially shaking hands.

Six Gavel.

Vice President Garner had his choice of six gavels and he managed to use three of them before the day was over.

First business was the administration of the oath of office to re-elected or newly elected senators. The galleries chuckled as tiny Hattie Caraway, the senate's only woman member, firmly grasped the elbow of her bulky colleague, Senator Robinson, and escorted him to the dias.

In the house, Trimble directed that the roll be called and then withdrew for that half hour process. With no presiding officer, the members fell to talking in ever louder tones, until it became impossible to hear the names called. Little groups here and there tried vainly to keep the conversation under control with shouted "shushes."

Bankhead Named. Nominations for the speakership were made without oratorical embellishment. Bankhead, of Alabama, was named for the Democrats and Snell, of New York, for the Republicans. Bankhead, of course, was re-elected, 223 to 84. Ten votes were cast for Representative Schneider, named for the Progressives and Farmer-Laborites.

With a cordial tribute, Snell introduced Bankhead, and the latter turned to praising Snell as an able legislator and worthy opponent. Fifteen minutes later he was calling Snell to order and refusing him the floor in the session's first hour debate—a tangle between the Republican leader and Representative O'Connor, Democrat, New York.

The neutrality legislation will be introduced by Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee and Chairman McReynolds, of the house foreign affairs committee. It is the senate's first act in the present neutrality law. The latter directs the President to embargo munitions shipments to belligerent countries but says nothing about civil wars. Robert C. New Jersey broker, last week obtained reluctant state department approval for shipping $2,300,000 worth of planes to Spain. The new legislation is intended to keep them grounded.

BENTON NAMED HEAD OF F. D. R. DANCES HERE

Chairmanship of the birthday balls for President Roosevelt to be held in Atlanta on the night of January 30, has been accepted by Mike Benton, it was announced yesterday.

Benton, a well-known businessman, is president of the Southern Fair Association, a position he has held with conspicuous success since 1933.

Plans for the dances, including musical arrangements, locations, chairmen for each dance and other details will be announced in the near future, Benton stated.

All funds derived from the President's birthday dances will be given to the endowment at Warm Springs, as part of the national campaign to stamp out infantile paralysis.

Benton yesterday requested the co-operation of all Atlantans in making the dances an overwhelming success. "We have undertaken a large task," he said. "The entire nation will be watching to see what Atlanta, as the nearest large city to Warm Springs, accomplishes. We cannot afford to fail."

Harrison Jones, chairman of the state committee, expressed great pleasure at the acceptance of the Atlanta chairmanship by Benton.

RIVERS' INAUGURATION IS PLANNED TUESDAY

Continued From First Page.

Elberton dinner Friday night. He plans to come to Atlanta Sunday.

Tax Measure Proposed. Proposal of a gross receipts tax in Georgia, encouraging reduction of levies on real estate will reach the house shortly after the session opens.

Representative J. M. Simmons, of Bainbridge, who already has drafted his bill, announced here yesterday he will propose a 2 per cent tax on receipts of retailers and one-fourth of one per cent on receipts of manufacturers and wholesalers. There would be an exemption of $1,000.

The schedule, he continued, would produce $20,000,000 annually, 20 per cent of which would go to the treasury to pay old age pensions and 80 per cent to the common school fund.

The school money would be apportioned to the various counties of the state, but no county levying a property tax for support of its schools would be eligible for any of the fund.

The only exception to this regulation would be in cities where more than 40,000 population where a city system could participate in the fund and levy its own property tax.

The method, Simmons declared, would encourage school systems to abandon property taxes, and thus afford relief to property owners.

Further, he held, it would allow the state to drop its property tax, now at the rate of one mill, and producing approximately $3,000,000.

The gross receipts tax is the major proposal in Simmons' plans to revamp the state's revenue producing methods.

While he did not say his proposal was in accordance with administration policies, he did say Governor-elect Rivers had asked him "to look over the tax situation."

Simmons, as a member of the upper house last year, headed the senate finance committee. During three previous legislatures he was a member of the house ways and means committee, concerned with taxation. He has asked to be placed on that same committee again.

He will introduce the proposal on the first possible day after the legislature convenes next Monday, he said.

Other Tax Proposals. Other tax revision proposals include a reduction in exemptions under the income tax law and a raising of income tax rates.

He estimated his schedule would double the state's income from the tax, yielding a total of $5,000,000.

Exemptions for single persons would be reduced from $1,500 to $1,000, and for married persons from $3,500 to $2,500. The rate would be one per cent for the first $1,999 of net income, increasing one per cent with every $2,000 until reaching $10,000. Incomes of over $10,000 would be taxed six per cent.

The tax on corporation incomes would be raised from the present four per cent to five per cent.

Need for increased revenue, he held, will result from adoption of the Rivers program of expanded state activity. This program, he estimated, will require $10,000,000 in new state income.

While the revised income tax law would produce an increase of approximately $2,500,000, and a state liquor plan possibly $3,000,000, if enacted, Simmons is in favor of the gross receipts levy as the principal source of new revenue.

NOW I EAT STUFFING
Upset Stomach Goes in Jiffy with Bell-Ans

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ATLANTA

Condensed Statement of Condition
December 1st, 1936

RESOURCES

First Mortgage Loans	$1,655,589.87
Loans on Shares	2,423.00
Taxes Advanced	1,486.62
Real Estate	6,294.09
Federal Home Loan Bank Stock	10,600.00
Office Building	30,703.07
Furniture and Fixtures	1,412.22
Deferred Charges	1,223.23
Cash on Hand and in Bank	2,602.74
	$1,712,351.84

LIABILITIES

Full Paid Income Shares	$1,020,400.00
Optional Savings Shares, Installment
Thrill Savings and Prepaid Shares	416,715.87
Pledged Shares—Mortgage Loans	33,201.65
Federal Home Loan Bank—Advance	180,000.00
Reserve for Federal Insurance and Contingencies	7,175.40
Earned Surplus and Included Therein Undivided Profits	$4,858.92
	$1,712,351.84

OFFICERS

CHARLES M. MARSHALL
Vice-President

JOSEPH S. SNOW
Treasurer

Mrs. RALPH MORLEY
Secretary

GEORGE W. WEST, President

HORACE RUSSELL
Vice-President

MISS MILDRED OWEN
Asst. Secretary

DIRECTORS

TROY G. ORNSTEIN
GEORGE H. DRY
E. W. GOTTENSTRATER
JUDGE T. O. HATWOOD

CHARLES M. MARSHALL
T. D. McLANE
Dr. H. C. MILLER
EMMETT L. QUINN

JOSEPH T. ROSE
JOSEPH S. SNOW
GEORGE W. WEST
C. M. ZATTAU

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ATLANTA

18 AUBURN AVENUE, N.E.

FALSE TEETH Can Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their teeth dropped or slipped at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTER on your teeth or gums and they stay in place and feel comfortable. Sweeten breath. Get FASTER at any good drug store.—(ad.)

I took TEETHINA For my Cold

"I know all about this cold business because my mother just cured me of a bad cold. I was temporarily constipated, so she gave me a TEETHINA powder to cleanse my stomach of irritating food and waste and to aid in correcting my acid condition. Boy, I sure felt relieved now, and let me also tell you that when I have colds, dizziness, gas or indigestion due to the wrong kind of diet, my stomach or bowels add, my mother always gives me TEETHINA. I like the taste of TEETHINA and you can buy it at the corner drug store. See the box of 25 packets."

HORNSBY IS SELECTED TO HEAD POLICE WORK

Continued From First Page.

him to trial January 15 on charges of failing to co-operate with police in the investigation of a stolen car which he was convicted of receiving.

At the same meeting, it was understood the new committee men will begin weeding out the majority of the police supernumeraries who have been placed on the list in the last six months. Sixty-eight names were added to the list by the public safety committee the time.

Charges against three other officers, Carl Duncan, W. G. Scott and C. W. Mauldin, all recently reinstated, are being investigated by the city attorney, J. C. Savage, and it was said all three

Broadcast Spaghetti
4 Nice servings! Made with meat! 15c tin

MINOR PARTIES SEEK GREATER RECOGNITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Progressives and Farmer-Laborites in the house of representatives joined forces today in a bid for equal recognition with Republicans as a minority party.

At the same time they proposed a political realignment which leaders hoped would be a powerful factor by the 1940 elections.

"We take our stand for progress, for peace, for plenty, and we wish to join hands with all those who are going our way," said a statement issued by Representative Schneider, Progressive, Wisconsin, the group's unsuccessful candidate for house speaker.

Their strength increased from 10 to 13 in this fall's elections, the Progressive and Farmer-Labor representatives called upon Speaker Bankhead for as many major committee assignments, in proportion to their numbers, as given the 80 Republicans.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

PIMPLES
Itching and burning of pimples, rashes, eczema relieved by
CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

Gold Shield sends for your clothes and brings them back to you...

Family Washing...
14 POUNDS 49c 3c FOR EACH ADDITIONAL POUND

Beautifully clean; sterilized; just damp enough to iron nicely

Part-Ironed and Completely Ironed Services at Slightly Higher Rates

Inside our big, efficiently operated plants we can wash and sterilize your clothes promptly—rain, snow or shine. We'll iron them for you or send them back to you damp, just ready for you to iron.

PHONE ONE OF THESE

"Yours for Excellence in Quality and Service"

MAY'S HEmlock 5300	PIEDMONT WAlnut 7651	TRIO JACKSON 1600
TROY-PEERLESS HEmlock 2766	AMERICAN MAIn 1016	CAPITAL CITY WAlnut 7121
DECATUR DEarborn 3162	EXCELSIOR WAlnut 2454	GUTHMAN WAlnut 8661

Gold Shield Launderers—Dry Cleaners

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

ATLANTA

Condensed Statement December 31, 1936

COMPTROLLER'S CALL

RESOURCES

Cash and Due From Banks	$31,328,333.59
U. S. Government Securities	$32,446,955.10
Municipal Bonds	4,835,550.94
Other Marketable Bonds	2,083,999.92
Corporate Stocks	137,376.85
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	247,800.00
Loans and Discounts	38,912,756.15
Overdrafts	17,204.81
Banking Houses	3,081,822.78
Furniture and Fixtures	None
Other Real Estate	105,506.57
Customers' Liability on Letters of Credit	34,881.00
Income Accrued	200,508.79
Other Assets	101,438.51
TOTAL	$113,534,135.01

LIABILITIES

Capital	$5,400,000.00
Surplus	2,860,000.00
Undivided Profits	1,517,846.23
Reserves	1,853,729.93
Reserve for Dividends Declared	378,000.00
Accrued Taxes and Interest	146,671.52
Letters of Credit	34,881.00
Deposits	101,320,035.52
Other Liabilities	22,970.81
TOTAL	$113,534,135.01

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

AD MEN POSTPONE ANNUAL ELECTION

Meeting Slated for Today Will Be Held on Next Tuesday.

Postponement of the meeting of the Atlanta Advertising Club, originally set for 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, was announced last night by J. W. Petty Jr., president.

The meeting, at which time officers will be elected, will be held at 12:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon at Davidson-Paxon's tea room, Petty said. The nominating committee will announce results of its selections at the meeting next week, and further nominations will be made by the membership.

HAPEVILLE MAYOR SWEARS IN COUNCIL

Mosley Retained as Supervisor of Police and Fire Departments.

Three re-elected members of Hapeville city council were sworn in last night at ceremonies at the first meeting of the group for the new term. A large audience attended the meeting, held in the auditorium of Hapeville city hall.

The re-elected councilmen, chosen for two-year terms, are Forrest Garrard, Roscoe Mullins and J. C. Brown. Councilmen already in office, who also took oaths, were Raymond Catby and W. A. Walker.

Mayor O. M. Huie administered the oaths, and presided. The council voted four to one not to license sale of beer and wine in the community in 1937, and also passed the $500-per-table license fee for poolrooms, a prohibitive figure set forth in the municipality's original charter.

L. M. Mosley was retained as supervisor of police and fire department. No changes were made in the force of four policemen. One change was made in the fire department, E. L. Hopner replacing F. F. French, who resigned to accept a post with the county.

NEW HIGHWAY BUDGET SEEKING $4,200,000 GIVEN TO TALMADGE

Retiring Governor May Let Successor Fix Expenditures of Board.

The State Highway Board has submitted a budget ceiling for the expenditure of $4,200,000 in the next 90 days but it cannot be learned whether Governor Talmadge will approve it or leave it for his successor, Governor Rivers, who will be inaugurated next week.

Former Governor Russell received a budget from the highway board a few days before the end of his term in 1932 but he did not approve it, leaving it for his successor, Governor Talmadge, to handle. It is understood that members of the highway board are pressing Governor Talmadge to approve their budget before he leaves office. It is known to include provision for the purchase of two $7,500 trucks, said to be the most expensive such articles ever bought by the state.

Other items for equipment are included in the budget. Governor Talmadge made no comment on the budget yesterday but he did announce that he would take no further action concerning the transfer of $144,000 from the general fund to the highway fund. He said he would report this matter to the legislature as provided by law.

MRS. MINNIE W. HARPE PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. Minnie Wooldridge Harpe, 71, resident of Atlanta for the past year, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Franklin, at 960 Virginia avenue, N. E.

Mrs. Harpe, widow of the late Dr. W. H. Harpe, who practiced medicine in Cusseta, Ga., for a number of years and was prominently identified in the medical profession in that section, was a native of Columbus. She was active in social, civic and religious affairs. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Surviving in addition to Mrs. Franklin are three other daughters, Mrs. J. C. Andler of Oglethorpe, Mrs. R. T. Taylor of Richmond, and Mrs. W. L. West of Columbus; a son, F. C. Harpe, of Albany, and nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Sam R. Greenberg.

CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS TO MEET IN GEORGIA

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 5.—The call has gone out to nearly 50,000 farmers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida to attend the annual meetings of their production credit associations in January and the first week in February, according to Ernest Graham, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia. At the annual meetings of the associations complete reports on last year's operations will be made. Mr. Graham said, directors elected and plans for this year's operations made.

The dates of the annual meetings of the associations in Georgia follow: Adel, January 23; Albany, January 24; Americus, January 12; Athens, February 5; Bainbridge, January 15; Carrollton, January 20; Cartersville, February 1; Cordele, January 26; Dawson, January 13; Douglas, January 22; Dublin, January 30; Eastman, January 27; Gainesville, February 3; Greenville, January 28; Hartwell, January 28; Jonesboro, February 2; Macon, January 23; Madison, February 6; Quitman, January 16; Rome, Sandersville, January 25; Savannah, February 3; Statesboro, February 2; Swainsboro, January 21; Sylvania, February 4; Thomasboro, January 11; Thomson, February 6; Tifton, February 1; Vidalia, February 1; Washington, February 5; Waycross, January 18; Waynesboro, February 5; and Winder, February 4.

Flower-Bedecked Office Grooms Mayor Hartsfield

Constitution Staff photo—Blyden.

His office may later prove a headache to Mayor Hartsfield, but yesterday morning when he took over his duties, the Hartsfield grin was as much in evidence as ever. Pen in hand, surrounded by flowers, his first official act was to approve a council resolution.

Hague Bows to Germany's Demands As Two Julianas Prepare To Wed

Peasant Girl and Groom-To-Be Prepare Cottage for "Honeymoon."

LEYDEN, Holland, Jan. 5.—(AP)—"The other Julianas"—the peasant girl who was born the same day and hour as the Crown Princess and who also will be married Thursday—received guests today in the kitchen of her little home.

There were no royal relatives. There were no royal guests, no splendor of display. There wasn't even money for a honeymoon trip. The peasant girl, Juliana Van Der Meer, and her fiance, Sailor Martin Van Stijn, who hopes for "a lot" of children, were busy moving in furniture and washing the brand-new pots and pans for their cottage.

By the coincidence of birth, the peasant Juliana won special government permission to be the only other girl to be wed Thursday when the Crown Princess Juliana is married to Prince Bernhard of Lippe-Biesterfeld. The commoners have been engaged for six years, waiting to save enough money to marry. Juliana is 27; Martin, who was born on Queen Wilhelmina's birthday, is 31—six years older than Prince Bernhard.

Today they were putting the finishing touches to a neat little home which has a living room, dining room, kitchen and three bedrooms, with electric lights and running water. Juliana blushed when asked why they needed such a big house.

"It is for children. Marriage without children would not be marriage."

"How many did they expect to have?"

"A whole lot," said Sailor Martin. Juliana objected. "Maybe not as many as that."

THIRD COBB PRISONER RETAKEN AT MARIETTA

MARIETTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—After recapturing Claude Gilstrap, 19, one of 10 convicts who escaped last week from the Cobb county jail, authorities this afternoon pressed search for seven still at large. Gilstrap telephoned officers that he was ready to give up and was taken into custody at a Roswell street address in this city. Two other escapees were captured shortly after the break New Year's night.

Officers believe that the others are hiding along the Chattahoochee river.

MORTUARY

HENLEY WYATT, 19, of 610 Westwood avenue, East Point, died Monday at a private hospital. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wyatt; five brothers, F. L. S. J. M., J. L. and T. E. Wyatt, and five sisters, Mrs. Jewel Bartlett, Miss Frances Wyatt, Mrs. P. Murphy, Mrs. S. S. Brooks and Mrs. J. A. Varlow. Final rites will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Howard I. Carmichael, with the Rev. S. F. Griffin officiating.

THOMAS F. COOK, 39, of 4 Taber avenue, N. W., died yesterday morning at the residence following a short illness. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cook; three sisters, the Misses Dorothy, Mary Frances and Jean Cook; five brothers, Jimmie, Bobby, Jack, H. R. and M. E. Cook; and his grandmother, Mrs. Sally Johnson, of Helena, Ala. Final rites will be held in Helena, tomorrow with West Side Funeral Home.

ALBERT C. KNIGHT, 22, of 1141 1/2 street address, died yesterday in private hospital. Surviving are his sister, Mrs. Myrtle Sloan, and two brothers, George E. and Dexter E. Knight, all of Gordon county, Georgia. Funeral services and burial will be held in Georgia, tomorrow with Sam Greenberg & Company in charge.

GEORGE W. McWILLIAMS, 42, died yesterday at the residence, 404 Highland avenue, N. E. He is survived by his wife; seven daughters, Mrs. E. D. Foster, Mrs. E. R. Trotter, Mrs. Mabel Howell, Mrs. W. A. Grennor, Mrs. W. J. Davis, Miss Susan and Ruth McWilliams; and two brothers, Robert and George McWilliams. Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Catching Cold? HERE'S HELP TO PREVENT COLDS

AT THAT FIRST SNEEZE, sniffle, or any irritation in the nose—Nature's own warning that a cold threatens—don't delay a moment...

QUICK! A FEW DROPS of Vicks Vapo-r-nol on each nostril. It is expressly designed for nose and upper throat, where most colds start.

IT S-P-R-E-A-D-S through this trouble zone, aiding and gently stimulating Nature's defenses. Used in time, it helps prevent colds.

QUICKLY RELIEVES "STUFFY HEAD"—If neglected irritation has led to a stuffed-up nose, Vapo-r-nol reduces the swollen membranes, clears the clogging mucus, lets you breathe again.

Nazi Music Is Played at Concert in Honor of Crown Princess.

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The conductor refused to conduct, but the band played the Nazi "Horst Wessel" anyway tonight at a gala festival celebrating the wedding Thursday of the Crown Princess Juliana.

The Nazi marching song and the German anthem Deutschland Uber Alles got a place on the program to soothe German resentment over failure to display the Nazi swastika in honor of the German Prince Bernhard of Lippe-Biesterfeld, the bridegroom-to-be.

But Dr. Van Anrooy, well-known orchestra leader, flatly refused to direct the performance before 1,500 guests in the hall of the Society of Arts and Sciences.

The difficulty was solved when Captain Boer, conductor of the Royal Military band, volunteered to direct the two selections. Dr. Van Anrooy consented to lead the remainder of the program.

The Netherlands government itself had been irked at what it called derogatory remarks in the press about the performance of the German band.

Few swastika flags were on display tonight. Only one was flown prominently—over the German legation—and it was guarded day and night to prevent any repetition of the pulling down of a German flag last Saturday.

In addition to tonight's concert, the chief pre-nuptial function today was a luncheon party for foreign guests given by Queen Wilhelmina, Juliana's mother, at Noordeinde palace, and a small dinner party at the palace to follow following an exhibition of films made by the bridegroom.

PRAIRIE STATES HIT BY FRIGID WAVE

Subzero Temperatures Are Reported by Nine Commonwealths.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Intense cold—ranging down to 37 below zero in Minnesota—harassed the prairie states today.

Subzero temperatures were reported in nine states, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska, but forecasters promised moderation would set in tomorrow.

Snow fell again in South Dakota. Some schools were closed in Minnesota.

The thermometer registered —37 at Bemidji, Minn. Other low marks included: Park Rapids, Minn., —33; Grand Forks, N. D., —29; Devils Lake and Williston, N. D., —28; Moorhead, Minn., —22; Bismarck, N. D., —20; Aberdeen, S. D., —19; Duluth, Minn., —18; Minneapolis, —14; Miles City, Mont., —12; Havre, Mont., and Huron, S. C., —10; Sioux Falls, S. D., —9; Rapid City, S. D., —6; Charles City, Iowa, and Durango, Colo., —4; Green Bay, Wis.; Sheridan, Wyo., and Valentine, Neb., —2.

The frigid wave which moved down from the Canadian northwest yesterday progressed eastward. Colder weather is expected for Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

A shift in wind from the north to the northeast saved Chicago from a zero spell. The mercury here dropped from 35 at midnight to 18 at 10 a. m. (Atlanta time) and then ascended into the more comfortable twenties.

Nebraska temperatures scaled upward toward the freezing level while meteorologists predicted relief in the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys tomorrow.

News of Gate City Told in Paragraphs

Leonard Henson, who, the solicitor's office says, escaped from the Morgan county chain gang on August 10, was found guilty in Fulton superior court on charges of auto theft and sentenced to serve an additional one to five years.

Sharon Men's Bible Class yesterday announced election of W. J. Denney as president. Tom Scoggins will serve as teacher and Claude Mills as supply teacher for the new year. Other officers named are A. E. Waldron, first vice president; J. R. Cannon, second vice president; Carl Mills, secretary; J. R. Crane, assistant secretary, and A. D. Hones, treasurer.

Dr. Grady E. Clay, retiring president of the Fulton County Medical Society, will install new officers at the thirty-second annual banquet to be held at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Piedmont Driving Club. The officers are Dr. H. C. Spauls, president; Dr. C. C. Aven, president-elect; Dr. J. Harry Rogers, vice president; Dr. M. T. Harrison, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Edgar H. Greene, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. John P. Denton, chairman judicial council, and Dr. W. S. Dorough, council member.

Temporary injunction restraining the city of Bremen, Ga., from enforcing an ordinance forbidding the sale of beer and wine was granted by Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court yesterday. Bremen beer and wine dealers contend the city had legalized the sale of these products and, after merchants had stocked them, had repealed the ordinance.

Fight over a chicken dinner and a game of cards, both precipitated for the favor of a woman, resulted yesterday in Louis Hashell being found guilty in Fulton superior court on charges of assault with intent to murder Junius Thomas, the other suitor. Judge Hugh M. Dorsey sentenced Hashell to serve 4 to 10 years on the chain gang.

Jack Burt was held up yesterday morning in his lunchroom at 392 Whitehall street, S. W., while armed bandits took $10 from the cash drawer, he reported to police. On night duty at the lunchroom, he was covered by one bandit, he told officers, while a second one remained on guard outside the front door.

January pension checks to Confederate veterans and their widows, totaling $7,620, were mailed from the ordinary's office yesterday.

Federal Alcohol Tax Unit officials announced seizure of 1,423 distilleries and recording of 2,546 arrests in Georgia during 1936. A total of 2,141 stills were seized and 3,734 arrests were made by the officers during an 11-month period in Alabama, Florida and South Carolina, it was said.

Colonel A. G. Conoley, commanding officer of the 30th Cavalry, and Major James Short, will lead the discussion at meeting of the division's cavalry officers at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at Georgia Tech.

Desire for sugar and jewelry led John Willie Wesley to the chain gang yesterday to serve 12 to 17 years for burglary and car breaking. He was found guilty in superior court on two charges of burglary and one charge of car breaking—the latter to "get sugar for coffee."

W. Will Hosh, of Decatur, was appointed chairman of the agricultural committee of Kiwanis Clubs in Georgia, it was announced last night by Dean Owens, of Rome, Georgia governor of Kiwanis Clubs.

James Mulkey, 28, of Atlanta, received a sentence of 18 months in Atlanta penitentiary in Cincinnati federal court yesterday on a charge of violating the motor vehicle theft act.

C. W. and Edgar Sullivan, Atlanta contractors, were low bidders on the PWA-financed Rossville avenue widening project, it was announced yesterday by the city of Chattahoochee. Contract on the bid of $8,718 is expected to be let today.

SEAMAN SHOTS 2, TURNS GUN ON SELF

Wife Spared, One of Victims of Enraged Sailor Dies in Lawyer's Office.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Enraptured by failure of a reconciliation conference with his wife, police reported, a navy sailor went berserk in a lawyer's office today, killing one woman, shooting another, and wounding himself.

He spared his wife, who had sued for divorce. Paul McClelland, 27, the sailor; his estranged wife, Pauline; Miss Virginia Davidson, 21, Mrs. McClelland's sister, and Mrs. Jean Jenkins, 25, were in the office of Clifford Hicks, lawyer. No agreement was reached and the sailor left the office.

McClelland returned in a few minutes, ordered the women and Hicks to line up against the wall and said, "I'll show you what it means to die."

He shot Miss Davidson through the heart. She ran into the hall screaming and fell dead. The sailor then fired at Mrs. Jenkins and turned the gun on himself. Physicians held little hope for the recovery of either Mrs. Jenkins or the sailor.

J. B. STANLEY HEADS U. S. EMPLOYEES' UNION

New President Member of Internal Revenue Service Here Since 1922.

Internal Revenue Agent J. B. Stanley was elected president of Local 81 American Federation of Government Employees, as officers were chosen last night at a meeting of the organization, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Stanley has been with the internal revenue service since 1922. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and Kirkwood Masonic lodge.

Other officers chosen are Isadore Leff, special assistant district attorney, treasurer, and Mrs. F. F. Garren, of the internal revenue agent's office, secretary.

The following were elected members of the executive committee: Julius A. Tidwell, alcohol tax unit; Harry Moses, district attorney's office; E. M. Hartow, weather bureau; Mrs. R. V. Crawley, war department; G. H. Mordock, postoffice custodial force; E. K. Guiley, intelligence unit, internal revenue service; Julius A. Setze, veterans' administration; B. F. Hates, W. B. Creel, E. L. Sheridan and W. J. Dunaway, representing the federal prison.

Announcement was made also of the election, as national vice president, of Harold E. Smith, assistant internal revenue agent in charge, who succeeds C. L. Edwards, recently promoted from assistant district manager of the Civil Service Commission over to district manager of the commission at St. Louis.

James P. Googe, who succeeded Edwards in the Atlanta office, attended the meeting.

You're Invited To

DAVISON'S Informal Cruise and Resort
FASHION SHOW

Today, 3 P. M.
On the Third Floor

Members of the Boxwood Garden Club will model and act as hostesses.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

ARGOSY ANNIVERSARY ANCESTRAL

For a Limited Time Only, You Can Fill In the Gaps in These

6 inactive patterns of 1847 ROGERS BROS.

at the regular "open stock" prices!

If your service happens to be one of these six patterns and you want to fill in the gaps, you CAN, and you don't have to "pay a premium" just because they are no longer open stock patterns. Take inventory of your flatware today—we're ready to fill in the missing links—so don't despair.

SILVERWARE, STREET FLOOR

HERALDIC

CROMWELL

OLD COLONY

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARE ROWELL JR.
Vice President and General Manager.
E. T. TROTTER
Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Walnut 0445.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier or Mail:
Daily and Sunday... $2.00
Single Copies... 10c

By Mail Only:
Daily and Sunday... $2.00
Single Copies... 10c

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of any news item which is not in accordance with its policy.

World's Window

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Freedom of Press.

worse until now it is necessary to cut deeply into the evils that have piled one upon the other.

The necessary operation must be performed by the new administration and the frank and fearless manner in which Mayor Hartsfield charts his course, and the encouraging evidences of an earnest desire by the members of general council to back him to the full extent of their ability gives encouraging prospect for a new, better, and more businesslike era in the affairs of the municipal government.

TWO CHIEFS RESIGN

The resignation of Chief of Police Sturdivant solves what promised to be an unfortunate controversy which might have terminated in a long-stretched-out wrangle in the courts.

Chief Sturdivant has acted wisely, not only in his own interest, but for the welfare of the department and the city.

The police department has had few detectives of as marked ability as Sturdivant, and there has never been any question as to his intense loyalty to his duties, whatever position he has held.

Unfortunately, however, for the good of the department he is not possessed of the executive ability required to meet the exacting demands of the office which he now resigns.

Troubled since the day he assumed office as chief of police with conflicting political influences, and not possessing a diplomacy that might have carried him successfully through these dangerous shoals, Sturdivant's regime has been one of almost constant turmoil.

The people of the city will remember his good work of the past and the happy solution of a critical situation brought about by his resignation.

The resignation of Assistant Chief A. Lamar Poole also removes from the department an official who has rendered excellent service in the solution of difficult crime problems, but who has been the center of frequently recurring controversies.

While a brilliant operative, Chief Poole, like Chief Sturdivant, has failed to exhibit executive ability and to avoid political pitfalls.

With the resignations of the two stormy petrels, around whom have swirled the destructive controversies which have impeded the development and lessened the efficiency of the department, the way is opened for the sweeping reforms which it has long been recognized must be put into effect before the Atlanta Police Department will become the energetic and vigilant organization the city must have if crime is to be held within reasonable bounds.

The rebuilding of the department, both as to personnel and methods, is a task which must be undertaken with full realization of its vital bearing upon the safety and welfare of every resident of the city.

A VETERAN RETIRES

Former Mayor James L. Key retires to private life after a long, arduous and on the whole, constructive service to the city both as a member of council and as mayor.

No man in the history of the city has served the community as the head of the municipal government for as many years as has Mayor Key. It was his lot—not an easy one nor a happy one by any means—that most of his years of service were during critical times.

To his undying credit it is to be said that despite the trying problems he has had to face he has faced them with an indomitable will and a firm determination that the credit of the city and the public service should be maintained.

In view of the difficulties he has encountered it is remarkable that he achieved the success he did.

No man was ever more loyal to his city and no man has struggled more diligently and valiantly for the things he believed to be right.

He goes into private life with the esteem and the cordial regard of even those with whom he struggled most bitterly during some of the tempestuous years of his service to the community.

Florida fishermen report finding skeletons eight feet tall. So far, California's press agencies haven't reported, but we have no doubt that they will beat that easily.

Butter rationing in the Reich is a hardship, but things don't begin to be tough until they order a three-inch collar on the beer.

An astronomer reports having photographed flames 800,000 miles high on the sun. Well, they will keep starting a kitchen range with kerosene.

The British medical fraternity is pondering the curious case of a Londoner whose heart is turning to stone, though not an archbishop.

The Rebel, Franco, begins to shape up as a strategist who, if he had the key to the city, would get stuck in a transmog.

A biologist says there is no set "age of discretion." People are running great nations today who shouldn't be allowed to carry matches.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

BY PAUL MALLON.

TRANSITION WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The President's annual message is said to have been prepared with some difficulty this year. Underneath it is a change in the controlling influence of economic conditions. The New Deal is at the climax of a transition period.

What has been done so far can accurately be charted by a line ascending like one side of a mountain. The big idea has been to turn on the gas, and climb. The fuel used was an unbalanced budget, big treasury distribution by taxation, low interest rates, etc.

Future government economic policies can be charted by a descending line representing the other side of the mountain.

The budget must be balanced as soon as possible. Treasury borrowings must decline as private borrowings increase. Public spending must be eased down as private spending builds up. The new trend must be toward higher interest rates, less artificial money distribution. Otherwise your economic vehicle would take off from the peak and keep booming right on up until its momentum failed and it fell in another tailspin.

This economic change would be quite simple for President Roosevelt to handle. It was not involved in a campaign for business and labor reform. Also, it is a thin vegetarian program to offer a congress which has fasted for four years on raw spending meat.

PLANNING The auto strike seems to be just the first step in a private series planned by Mr. John L. Lewis to capture national attention for his steel organization program. Around headquarters, his confidants sometimes call it a "campaign for the headlines."

The second step will probably be a national conference under the auspices of the steel workers' organizing committee in a few weeks. The third will be the meeting of Mr. Lewis and the coal operators in New York, February 17. It would not be surprising if the S. W. O. C. seeks a conference with the steel operators to be held simultaneously with the coal conference.

Thus, all three steps will eventually head up into the same objective. It seems to be true that Lewis did not want to let the auto strike start so soon, but the auto union leaders insisted because delay would injure their position. The peak of the production season now is on. They argued, furthermore, that, if they can get a good settlement, it may help Lewis in steel.

The danger of a steel-mine strike around April 1 is obvious, but many authorities doubt that it will come to pass.

A good guess would be that the coal agreement will be continued as it stands for a short period after expiration date, thereby delaying a showdown.

AUTHORSHIP The President's message represents the ideas of possibly 100 men and the phraseology of perhaps 20. The method used in its preparation has been perfected by Mr. Roosevelt since the New Deal got into so many ramifications that it was impossible for any one man to keep up with them all.

Weeks ago he began receiving suggestions prepared by important government bureaus as to their legislative needs. He made notations on these. Also, he scribbled his views on sheets of papers from time to time, and noted the whole up in one drawer.

Two days ago (Mr. Roosevelt always waits until the last possible moment to draft the final form of his speeches), he let out these notations and dictated the draft of the speech. The he let government officials look over the sections relating to their subject and accepted their suggestions for improvements or deletions.

The final draft came out late, as usual.

PACIFICATION If any cabinet resignations have arrived at the White House, they must have been dropped down the chimney. The guard at the door has seen none. In fact, that drawn look appears to have disappeared from the faces of nearly all the cabinet members. The matter has all been straightened out, that Mr. Roosevelt will not request resignations, that there will be "very few, if any" changes in the cabinet.

The truth seems to be that Mr. Roosevelt likes to be affable and easy-going.

The law does not require the cabinet members to resign, and, while decency might, the point may not be raised. However, this may not mean as much as they suppose. If they will look at their commissions, signed by the President, they will find that, after the initial compliments to their integrity, prudence, etc., it says that they are to "serve at the pleasure of the President, for the time being."

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

SILHOUETTES

BY RALPH T. JONES.

He wrote a lovely novelette, Rejected, he got sore. And so he vowed he'd quit the pen.

And then he wrote more.

They Say This Happened.

Source of information on the following little incident is of unusually high reliability. However, not having been present at the startling event, I'll not vouch, personally, for its truth. But it's a good item for the column, anyway.

It was a crowd of rather well-known Atlanta men were waiting the advent of the New Year in a room on the fourteenth floor of a downtown hotel.

The celebration included a generous supply of liquid refreshment of more or less alcoholic content and some of the party became, in polite language, somewhat inebriated.

Two of the men, the best of friends in normal circumstances, began to quarrel about some ridiculous nothing, as men will do, at times, when under the sign of Bacchus.

Finally one of the two took a wild punch at the other and knocked him entirely out of the open window. On the fourteenth floor!

Miracles Do Happen.

It chanced that probably the most sober member of the party was near the window and saw the blow and its result. He dived for the victim and managed to catch him before he was disappearing over the window ledge.

Hung on, and pulled the fellow to safety. How do you like that for a New Year's Eve event in Atlanta?

"And, while repeating I didn't see it, my source of information is I'll not believe it really happened."

These Screen Press Agents.

Have been seeking for suitable adjectives to describe the latest outbreak of the press department of a well-known Hollywood picture making corporation. Hate to use the word colossal. So perhaps you'll get the idea if I simply say it is titanic.

All for one picture, too. It seems the R-K-O studio has made a picture of the Irish play, "The Plough and the Stars." Here's how I found out.

Yesterday a large expense package, addressed to the perpetrator of this column, reached the office. About 16x2x3 inches in dimensions.

Opened, and discovered a huge book, bound in purple plush and tied, top and bottom and side, with gold, tasseled cords.

In gold letters of florid design was the title, "The Plough and the Stars," and, at the lower right hand corner, again in gold lettering, my own name.

Unzipping the cords found inside some eight beautifully colored "still" life pictures, showing stars and scenes of the dramatic highlights. Each mounted on the heaviest of cardboard.

Perhaps they're trying to get rid of some funds before making a big profit on excess profits tax reports in Hollywood.

Necessities May Someday Be Free.

It is my belief the solution of the problem of the miserably poor will eventually come through a gradual realization that the essentials of life should be provided everyone without cost.

Someday, when simple food and Bibles cannot be printed or distributed.

What does all this have to do with us? Can we laugh it off? Can we totally ignore the fact that Atlanta is identified on the map of the world as the "City of the South?"

Yes, we can. But we can't read about the report of the recent student conference in a mid-western city? Do you read certain columns? It is a time for sober reflection.

Caught.

During the late war doctor was examining a number of men claiming disability. One chap complained that he was deaf in one ear. The doctor told him to cover his deaf ear and he asked him if he could hear.

"Yes," replied the soldier.

"Now cover the good ear," the doctor instructed. The man did so. "Can you hear me now?" inquired the doctor.

"No," replied the soldier, and wondered why his claim was thrown out.

Who.

There had been several electrical shocks in a certain district. So a married couple sent their little boy to an uncle who lived out of the danger zone.

A few days later they received a telegram.

"Am returning your boy. Send earthquake."

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to want ad pages for the answers.

1. Where is Amherst College?
2. Name the leading English astronomical observatory.
3. Do former presidents of the United States receive a pension?
4. Who wrote the "Fire-Bird Symphony"?
5. In what ocean are the D'Entrecasteaux islands?
6. What is an amulet?
7. In which state is Lake Pontchartrain?
8. Who was William Ewart Gladstone?
9. What is desiccation?
10. Name the capital of Iowa.

FAIR ENOUGH

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Might Not Like Jail After All

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Post-Industrious, a thousand-dollar bond on contempt of the house of representatives, Dr. Townsend, proprietor of the old-age pension plan, is reported to have said that he would rather go to jail than pay a fine because he could use a good rest anyway.

Probably the good doctor had in mind the Washington D. C. jail which is said to be one of the best in the country from the standpoint of physical comfort and social convenience. I am told of a journalist who spent some time there once for a traffic violation, and built up a good practice as inside correspondent for the papers.

However, I remember reading that in the Washington jail when they have to put a man to death for murder they move the electric chair into the dining hall, plug in on a socket and do the unpleasant business there. That would be a distinct drawback to a man of Dr. Townsend's nature, and even if there were no execution during his vacation period it might disturb his rest to visualize a man eating a quick march to the chair, the muttered prayers, the flip of the warden's hand as a signal to the electrician and all the rest of it. True, as a physician, Dr. Townsend has seen men die, but never that way. I don't think he would relax as pleasantly as he anticipates.

Jail would not be so bad if it were not jail. But the best of them have a distinctive smell, the bedding is likely to give more unrest than rest, and the company of men just putting in their vacation, arguing, playing cards for matches and counting the days is depressing. Men in jail are not for the most part, bad.

Humiliated One will have taken a slap at his mother-in-law for putting in her time in her mother-in-law's household dispute, and will be doing 30 days, outwardly indifferent and gay, but inwardly humiliated and determined to make life miserable for the old stick in a thousand mean little ways when he gets out.

There will be a lot of bound-over awaiting trial, and profoundly discouraged in a group of men who are not there will be some motor vehicle cases, drunk-and-disorderlies, small thieves and vagrants. The colored boys, in the northern jail where they are also Jim Crow segregation, usually huddle together anyway and face the future with less show of anxiety, although that may only be an appearance, due to the fact that nobody cares much what happens to them. Even when they are out of jail what does the future offer them?

Some of the prisoners are dead beat and without friends, and most of the occasional criminals from the others and save the butts in their cells. Those with money or connections have plenty to smoke, and receive chocolate candy and other luxuries. If there is a so-called millionaire's row they get the advantage of better cells, but the advantage isn't much even so, because it is still jail.

Little Fights To Break Monotony

The routine of a jail is a monotony of sound and sight. The night is broken by yammers and wailing cries, and the sight of old nightmarish scenes in the dead of night when the cells are locked and the guard, a minor post cut off a side of beef from the chum-room, and knocking over a few bottles of beer with a friend.

There will be occasional little fights to break the monotony and inveterate prisoners will be seen to enjoy them. There will be one who is just not good and an outcast, even in jail. There will also be a comedian always good for a laugh, and one strong, outcast character who is a rooster is constantly changing. Dr. Townsend would meet interesting men in jail, and remember some of them in a group of men who are not there to see them again.

I interviewed David Lamm, the so-called "Wolf of Wall Street" in a jail at Caldwell, N. J., a few years ago. He was a social leader of the little community. He was an erudite swindler, and he received visitors with an elaborate bow saying, "Welcome to my castle; let them and their friends and my reminiscences, and he seldom had to do any chores, because he usually talked someone into doing his duties for him. He made his money in a rest-cure, an experience or a rest, jail is just what the world has always been and always will be. That is why we have them.

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Talmudic Tales

BY DAVID MORANTZ.

(Based upon the legends and philosophy found in the Talmud, which contains the civil and canonical laws and traditions of the Jewish people, dating back as far as 3,000 years.)

QUESTIONS I'VE BEEN ASKED.

What are "The Thirteen Articles of Faith?"

Although what is known as the Thirteen Articles of Faith, as redacted by Moses Maimonides, have been accepted by the Jewish body, they are accepted as orthodox tradition today as the foundation of the Jewish religion and are as follows:

1. The belief that God is the Creator of the universe and all that is therein.
2. The belief in the unity of God.
3. The belief in the incorporeality of God (having no bodily form).
4. The belief that God is eternal (existing throughout all time).
5. The belief that God alone is to be worshipped.
6. The belief that all the words of the prophets are true.
7. The belief that Moses was the greatest of all prophets.
8. The belief in the Divine origin of the Torah (Mosaic law).
9. The belief in the immutability of the Torah (Mosaic law).
10. The belief that God knows and notices all the thoughts and actions of man.
11. The belief that God rewards those who obey His commandments and punishes those who disobey them.
12. The belief that the Messiah will come at some future date and establish the happiness and peace on all the earth.
13. The belief in the resurrection of the dead.

Due to the extensive interest in Talmudic Tales, 128 of the legends and over 500 Pearls of Wisdom have been collected in an attractive book of 195 pages, handsomely bound in stamped blue vellum cloth, with gold-trimmed title. Autographed by author. Suitable for gifts or prizes. Price $2.00 post paid. Address orders to "Talmudic Tales," care The Atlanta Constitution.

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Forgotten Woman.

The Forgotten Man has been taken care of but soon we may have the Forgotten Woman on our hands. The government plans to build 500 additional gold courses.

Possessing a Herd of Cattle Doesn't Enable Him to Eat Any More Steak

BY ROBERT QUILLEN.

In the old days, a land and its people were the property of the king; now a king has little that he can call his own. He inherits castles and jewels, but he doesn't own them. They belong to the nation—that is, to the people.

Before Mrs. Simpson left England, she was required to return certain "historical" jewels given to her by Edward. He had inherited them from a relative, but they were not his to give away.

A king who seems one of the richest of men merely has the use of riches while he lives and reigns. At his death they revert to the crown and another king uses them.

What, then, does he receive for his labors? His board and clothes and the use of certain luxuries and conveniences. That is all.

Is his situation unlike that of other men? Only in the degree of his good fortune. The richest of American millionaires "owns" property in the same imaginary way.

The fact that his ownership is temporary doesn't make it less pleasant, but he is fooling himself if he thinks it real.

The government is content to let him manage the property, for he does it well and the government takes the greater part of his yearly increase. When he dies, various divisions of government take the greater part of what is left.

Does he own the remainder? How could he? He can't take it with him. He had the use of it, and now his lease has expired. The property reverts to the world. The living who are his heirs may use it for a little while, if they have the wit to hold it, and then it will pass to their survivors.

If a man rents a

GEORGIA SOLON SEEKS TERM OF FOUR YEARS FOR CONGRESSMEN

Representative Braswell Deen Introduces Proposal in Lower Chamber.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A joint resolution fixing the term of congressmen for four years instead of two years today was introduced in the lower chamber by Representative Braswell D. Deen, of Georgia.

The measure was referred to the committee on election of President, Vice President and Representatives to congress, of which Representative Brooks Fletcher, of Ohio, is chairman. The latter told the Georgian he favored the resolution and that his committee would give it consideration later in the session.

Both Representatives Deen and Carl Vinson, the latter dean of Georgia's congressional delegation, introduced similar resolutions in the last congress but because of the press of important administration relief measures and appropriations, they were not given consideration.

Representative Vinson has indicated that instead of introducing another resolution of his own he will work for the passage of the Deen resolution.

If passed by both branches of congress the matter will be submitted to the states as a constitutional amendment and if adopted by three-fourths of the states a four-year term will be fixed.

Representative Deen pointed out that the purpose of the founding fathers in writing a two-year term into the constitution as regards house members was to insure a popular expression on the makeup of congress every two years. He thinks the same thing can be accomplished by having half of the house membership come up at two-year intervals, but with members elected for four instead of two years, just as a third of the senate is elected every two years.

Extension of the terms to four years would remove many of the political aspects of the present situation and would work to better government, the Georgia member feels.

For Comfort
DR. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES
By Drew
216 Peachtree Street

FLORIDA SUNBEAM

Ride the "SUNBEAM" to Florida
AIR-CONDITIONED

Lv. Atlanta 6:25 pm
Ar. Tampa 7:35 am
Ar. St. Petersburg 9:05 am
Ar. W. Palm Beach 10:15 am
Ar. Miami 11:30 am

Direct route to both coasts of Florida, through the beautiful Highland and Lake Region.

Three other fine Florida trains, via Jacksonville and Florida East Coast Railway.

ROYAL PALM
Lv. Atlanta 8:40 pm
PONCE DE LEON
Lv. Atlanta 10:10 am

KANSAS CITY-FLORIDA SPECIAL
Lv. Atlanta 7:50 pm
Reduced fares—buy a round trip ticket and save.

Ticket Your Automobile—You Travel by Train. Only 4 cents a mile for the car, when two more are in the car.

For information phone WA. 1961

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

ARE YOU WEAK?

If your day begins with backache, headache and nervousness, associated with periodic pains, you need a tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Read what Mrs. L. A. Sellers of 225 Fourth Ave., Meriden, Conn., has to say: "I suffered from functional irregularity, had pains in my back and sides, had no appetite and did not rest well at night. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and I improved in a short time. I continued to take it and my appetite was good and the pains were relieved."

Originally prescribed for his patients by Dr. R. V. Pierce nearly 70 years ago. Buy your neighborhood druggist now. New size, 50 cts. Liquid, $1.00 and $1.35.

Minister's Son Invents
Invisible Ear Drum

The invisible Ear Drum invented by A. O. Leonard, a son of the late Rev. A. B. Leonard, U. D., for many years secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for his own relief from extreme deafness and head noises, has been greatly improved his hearing that he is able to join in any ordinary conversation, go to the theater, and hear with difficulty in expensive and has been hearing in many people. Write for booklet to A. O. Leonard, Inc., Suite 228, 10 Fifth Avenue, New York City, (n.d.).

BACKACHE

Flush Kidneys of Waste Matter, Poisons and Acid and Stop Getting Up Nights

35 CENTS PROVES IT

When your kidneys are clogged and your bladder is irritated and passive waste and often acids and poisons build up, you need Gold Medal Backache Kidney Pills. These pills are a powerful stimulant and diuretic that always work and cost but 35 cents at any modern drug store.

It's one good, safe way to put healthy activity into kidneys and bladder—you'll sleep sound the whole night through. But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL—right from Backache Kidney Pills—are assured of results.

Other symptoms of weak kidneys and irritated bladder are backache, dizzy eyes, leg cramps, moist palms, (n.d.).

County Commissioners Ask Survey Of Highway Needs by State Group

Study Required To Prepare "Rationally Planned and Sensibly Financed Method of Road Building," Officials Declare in Newly Issued Brochure.

Urging appointment by the Governor and legislature, of a highway plan commission, to co-operate with the United States Bureau of Public Roads in making an exhaustive survey of the highway needs of the state, with a view to preparing a rationally planned and sensibly financed method of highway building and maintenance for Georgia, the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia has just distributed, on the eve of the convening of the new Georgia legislature, an attractive pamphlet entitled "Georgia at the Crossroads."

In this brochure the present conditions of the highways and roads of the state, both those in the state highway system and those not included, are carefully examined and the various proposals advocated for dealing with the complete problem are analyzed and discussed.

Second recommendations are made by the association in its summing up of the entire discussion.

First of these is that the State Highway Department arrange to have studies made under supervision of the Bureau of Public Roads, of the entire highway facilities and finances of the state, as well as of traffic conditions. Fourth recommendation is that city streets which are continuations of state highways be taken over by the State Highway Department for improvement and maintenance after all facts for intelligent action are available.

Pointing out that the people of Georgia pay more than $17,000,000 a year in taxes, as well as the local taxes on property for the improvement and upkeep of county roads, the pamphlet asks whether this money is being used intelligently to secure every possible mile of improved roads and better streets and to cut down the number of automobile accidents.

"We believe it is not," the publication answers. "We believe much better progress can be made just as soon as Georgia citizens really understand the situation."

Purpose Outlined.
The purpose of the pamphlet is explained in the following paragraph: "As a service to fellow Georgians, both in the country and in the cities, we have undertaken a study of our highway situation. We are looking at it from the viewpoint of Georgia as a state, and not merely as a collection of counties. We offer our discussion and some conclusions, without criticism of any individual or group."

Financial statistics are then given, based upon data published by the United States Bureau of Public Roads, showing that there is a net total for distribution of $22,448,000 annually, combining state and federal funds.

It is shown that this figure is expended as follows:
Collection and administration of taxes, $816,000.
Administration and engineering, $248,000.
State highway maintenance, $1,230,000.
State highway construction, $12,034,000.
Allotments for local roads, $2,527,000.

Diversion:
Education, $2,616,000.
Confederate pensions and teachers' salaries, $2,967,000.
Total, $22,448,000.

Arguing against any reduction of the gasoline tax, it is pointed out that automobile owners have actually saved money by paying this tax because of the reduction in cost of vehicle operation by the building and maintenance of better roads. Just a few years ago, it is pointed out, it cost from 8 to 10 cents a mile to operate a passenger car which now costs only from 3 to 5 cents per mile. Trucks, which used to cost from 12 cents to 20 cents per ton mile, are now operated for from 4 cents to 8 cents, it is stated.

Present Status Listed.
The present state highway system consists of 9,212 miles, of which 1,978 are high-type surface, 2,224 are intermediate type surface and 5,010 are low-type surface or unimproved. Pointing out that reduction in the gasoline tax would inevitably mean reduction in the highway department service, the pamphlet asks:

"What are we willing to sacrifice? Maintenance? There has been dissatisfaction expressed with the condition of the roads as they are."

"Would we take it out of construction and reconstruction? Our state system isn't half paved. Georgia can't afford to let its road system lag behind roads of neighboring states. Our progress demands roads equal to our neighbors. In every part of the state there are roads still to be improved. Should we sacrifice the possibility of such improvement for the saving of one cent per gallon on the gasoline we buy?"

Present Gas Tax Favored.
"The total state gas tax has stood at 6 cents per gallon since 1929. Would it not be better to leave it at that figure and try to find some way to increase the mileage of road and street improvements that we build each year—at least until our present state system is built?"

"We believe that our need to complete the state highway system, plus fairness to cities in the matter of streets, which are also state roads, dictates keeping the gasoline tax where it is."

"Our preliminary study shows about 5,000 miles on the state system still to be paved. A reasonable estimate of the cost is between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000. Therefore, at our present rate, we might fairly expect to complete the present state system about the year 1940. We are in no position to cripple our state road system now. We are too dependent upon roads and automobiles to make that mistake."

In discussing the proposal that the State Highway Department take over supervision of all roads in the state the publication points out that this would involve 104,596 additional miles of roads, which is the mileage in Georgia exclusive of that already included in the state system. This additional mileage, it is pointed out, probably carries less than one-third of all the traffic. "But that's another thing we don't know to a certainty and we should," the brochure states.

Cost Prohibitive.
Improvement and upkeep of such a vast road mileage would be at a prohibitive cost, it is argued, demanding more than is now expended on the whole state highway system.

Four states, it is pointed out, have put all their roads under the state system. These are Virginia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Harvey reports, it is declared, picture the people of those four states as feeling growing dissatisfaction with this step, but a real investigation and report on the results should be made. It is urged.

"We believe the question answers sensible financing. We believe a big majority of our citizens will back the effort necessary."

"We believe the Governor and legislature should appoint a highway plan commission to co-operate with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, make the necessary surveys and prepare a rational highway plan for Georgia."

In conclusion, the pamphlet states: "We point to the paramount fact that motor vehicle transport has become a vital factor in our lives. We must have adequate highways and streets. The interests of the country vehicle owner are identical with those of the city owner."

"The better these highways and streets, the less our transportation will cost and the greater the comfort and safety that will be provided."

"Besides our own transport requirements, Georgia has attractions in mountains, seashore, cities and sporting events of national interest which have brought visitors for decades. If our recreational areas are made conveniently accessible, we can greatly increase the tourist business. This would be equivalent to adding a new and profitable industry to the state's resources."

"Let's make plans and take action which will be constructive and which will meet our needs as a state."

"We urge everyone who reads this booklet to seek out and talk to his senator and representative in support of these recommendations."

PAIR BOUND OVER AS PICKPOCKETS

Third Suspect Held for U. S.
Grand Jury on Narcotic Charge.

Two alleged pickpockets were held in $500 bond each on charges of larceny from person yesterday afternoon by Recorder John L. Cone, as a third man, also arrested in connection with pickpocketing, was held for the federal grand jury on a narcotic charge.

United States Commissioner Ed S. Griffith held John Demar, 38, under $2,000 bond for the grand jury after streetwise W. McCree and P. A. Williams, assistant district narcotics supervisor, testified a small amount of heroin was found in his room in a downtown hotel.

Henry Parker, 45, arrested with Demar, will be arraigned before the commissioner this afternoon.

The pickpocket suspects were listed as B. Krim and John Wilson. They were arrested last Friday when they allegedly attempted to take a wallet from John W. Ball Sr., father of Alderman John W. Ball Jr., in front of a downtown motion picture theater. The younger Ball held the men until arrival of police.

Three others arrested when police rounded up the suspects are still being held, pending further investigation. They are listed as John Collins, 50; J. M. Ellsworth and Louise Ellsworth.

JOHN H. ROPER RITES TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

Final rites for John Henry Roper, 54, of 735 Chestnut street, who was fatally stabbed Sunday night during an argument over throwing cigarette butts on the floor, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Bellwood Baptist church.

The Rev. D. W. Reagan will officiate and burial will be in Coan's cemetery, under direction of West Side Funeral Home. Roper died in Grady hospital, several hours after being admitted.

Voluntarily 'Abducted'

Associated Press Photo.
MRS. ONIE WHEELER.

GIRL-WIFE DENIES 'LOVE ABDUCTION'

Went Voluntarily With Boiler-maker, Says Mrs. Onie Wheeler.

NEWARK, Ohio, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Onie Wheeler, 18-year-old "love abduction" victim, returned home today and told Police Chief Curtis Berry she disappeared voluntarily with Arthur Spence, 32-year-old boiler-maker.

Mrs. Wheeler arrived from Columbus, where she said she had been with Spence since Saturday night.

Newark police sought to learn from her the whereabouts of Spence, charged with abducting the woman by her husband, Wesley, a stove factory worker.

Wheeler filed the charge after Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaffer, friends of the woman, reported Spence forced them into his car Saturday night. They said he made them get out, but compelled Mrs. Wheeler to remain.

Wheeler said after his wife's disappearance that Spence was "crazy about" her and wanted her to leave him.

THREE SENT TO GANG FOR CHICKEN THEFTS

Three men were given sentences in criminal court yesterday totaling five years and two women were acquitted on charges of stealing chickens from farmers in Fulton and Cobb counties. They were arrested recently by Fulton county police and 60 chickens were returned to their owners.

Albert Coffman, alias Williams, was sentenced to a total of two years on six counts of chicken theft. Lee Wallace was given two years on six counts, and Thomas Wallace was given one year on the same charges. Mrs. Ruby Hunter and Mrs. Lovie Smith, arrested with the men, were acquitted.

MRS. ROBERT G. PEIRCE PASSES AT HOSPITAL

Wife of Railroad Executive Was Member of Prominent Alabama Family.

Mrs. Robert Grant Peirce, wife of the southeastern passenger agent of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and member of a prominent Alabama family, died yesterday morning at a private hospital here.

Mrs. Peirce, who was 54, lived at 554 Orme circle, N. E. She was a native of Brewton, Ala., the daughter of Stewart Joseph, lumberman and banker of Brewton, and Matilda Catharine Foshee. Her parents were among the first settlers in Escambia county.

Mrs. Peirce was educated at Visitation Academy, Mobile. She had lived here for the past 15 years and was a member of Grace Methodist church.

Besides her husband, surviving are three daughters, Mrs. John Alexander, Mrs. Walter Candler Jr., and Miss Martha Peirce; two sisters, Mrs. Z. C. Watson and Mrs. M. F. Watson; a brother, H. B. Foshee, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence, with Dr. W. A. Shelton officiating. Burial will be in Brewton, where the body was taken yesterday afternoon under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

DR. ROMANS HONORED
BY A. M. E. MINISTERS

Dr. R. E. Romans was named president of the Atlanta Minister's Union of the A. M. E. church at its regular business meeting held yesterday in Big Bethel church. The Rev. H. M. Parker, retiring president, presided, and was given a resolution of thanks for his service during the year.

Other officers named were the Rev. W. W. Stephens, vice president; the Rev. S. H. Rome, secretary-treasurer; the Rev. F. W. Bagby, recording secretary; the Rev. B. C. Carwell, assistant secretary; the Rev. Horace Williams, chaplain.

LINDLEY CAMP OPENS ATLANTA LAW OFFICES

Lindley W. Camp, retiring adjutant general of Georgia, announced yesterday that he was establishing law offices in the William-Oliver building here. He said he would devote his full time to the practice of law after the expiration of his term as adjutant general next week.

General Camp is a former city attorney of Marietta and served for a number of years as assistant solicitor general of the Blue Ridge circuit under Judge John S. Wood, of Canton. He also served a term in the house of representatives from Cobb county.

MRS. EMMA COLEMAN PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Prominent Atlanta Woman
Dies in 63d Year; Born in Paulding County.

Mrs. Emma Nichols Coleman, wife of W. D. Coleman, contractor, and mother of Mrs. Ralph Paris, wife of a prominent Rotarian, died yesterday morning at the residence, 1315 Euclid avenue, N. E.

Mrs. Coleman, who was 62, was a long-time resident of this city. She was a native of Paulding county and prominent in affairs of the United First Baptist church.

Besides her husband and daughter, surviving are two brothers, C. A. and W. M. Nichols; two grandchildren, E. Ralph Paris Jr., and Edythe Coleman Paris, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill, with Mrs. Ellis A. Fuller and Wallace Rogers officiating.

Burial will be in West View cemetery.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS SET SIX-YEAR RECORD

Postoffice receipts in 1936 set a six-year record for Atlanta, Postmaster Lon Livingston announced yesterday. The year's receipts were $4,720,257, a gain of $388,566.13, or 9.22 per cent over those of 1935.

The gain over the lowest depression year—1932—was slightly more than 30 per cent.

December's total receipts were $534,207.06, compared with $456,113.88 for the corresponding month of 1935.

MISS HELEN WATANEN TO BE BURIED TODAY

Final rites for Miss Helen Watanen, 27, of 239 Moreland avenue, N. E., a graduate nurse, who died Monday, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Glenn Memorial Methodist church.

The Rev. Robert Burns will officiate and burial will be in East View cemetery, under direction of A. S. Turner.

HARTMANN LUGGAGE

Commercial Brief Cases and Ring Binders

THE Luggage Shop
80 N. FORSYTH ST.
(Next to Rialto Theatre)

230 NEW COLONELS SELECTED BY CONE

214 Men and 16 Women on List of Florida Appointments.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Governor Fred P. Cone has appointed 230 lieutenant colonels to his official staff, Adjutant General Collins announced today.

The list, first made public at inauguration ceremonies, contains the names of 214 men and 16 women, from 49 of the state's 67 counties.

Duval county (Jacksonville) leads with 32 on the staff. The Governor's home county of Columbia (Lake City) is second with 24, and Hillsborough (Tampa) and Dade (Miami) follow with 22 and 17.

Don't Blow Your Head Off!

DO THIS FOR STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS
(due to accumulated mucus.)

If people realized how delicate the mucous membranes of nasal passages really are there would be far less blowing—far less trying to drive accumulated mucus out by brute force.

There is a much gentler and more effective way to do this. If your nostrils are stopped up with mucus, just insert a little Mentholum in them.

You'll be surprised at the gentle and quick way in which Mentholum breaks up the accumulated mucus. You'll be delighted, too, as you notice how the stuffiness is relieved and you can breathe more freely again.

MENTHOLATUM

HIGH'S January Sale of FIRST Magnitude! FUR COATS

Buy for Immediate Wear! Buy NOW for Next Winter!

American Broadtail : Lapin : Black Caracul : Northern Buck Sealines : Blocked Lapin : Krimmer Dyed Lamb

Replacement value would be $69.50 to $89.50. $45

... Are you a connoisseur of fine furs?
... Have you worn quality coats every winter of your life?
... Have you next winter's coat needs in mind?
... then hurry to High's for an investment in furs you'll never regret!

If you've been waiting for THE greatest value in fur coats, HERE IT IS! No matter how exacting your demands, no matter what type coat you're seeking, we're sure you'll find it in this January sale. Furs in the front-ranks of fashion, including full young swaggers, slender Princess lines, swing effects, luxurious conservative styles, incredibly supple, beautiful in every detail. Coats with EVERYTHING to stamp them as fashionable, dependable, desirable.

• Sizes for Misses and Women •
FUR SHOP—HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Easy Ways to Pay "Letter-of-Credit" 5 months to pay. Club Plan Small deposit, balance "easy." Lay-Away Small deposit, balance on delivery. Charge to your account or pay cash if you prefer.

They're pre-tested for tensile strength, wearability and washability. An Atlanta laundry put them "through the third degree." Free from filling or dressing 4-inch hems. Sizes 63x88, 72x99 and 81x99 inches.

EXTRA LARGE SHEETS Size 81x108 ins., each $1.04 FINE PILLOW CASES Size 42x36 inches, each 23c

$1.39 Cannon Fine Muslin and Mohawk Sheets
At this price you can afford to tuck a few away in the linen closet for later use—sheets that will give you four years' normal wear. Sizes 72x99, 81x99, 63x99, 72x108. Each 81x108 SHEETS, ea. $1.17 42x36 CASES, each. 27c

Variety Extra Size Bed Spreads $1.78 39c Cannon Turkish Bath Towels 25c

Hundreds of fresh new spreads in Rayons, Colonial Cottons, Candelwicks... the patterns unusually pretty, the values unmatchable! Unbeatable bargains, these fine towels! Generous in size (22x44) soft and absorbent, made of two-ply yarns. Monogrammed FREE!

29c CANNON TOWELS Turkish, size 20x40, each 20c 25c CANNON TOWELS Turkish, size 18x36, each 17c

Extra Size Spreads Colonial Cottons! Rayons! Candelwicks! Marvelous values. Each $2.78

Four states, it is pointed out, have put all their roads under the state system. These are Virginia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Harvey reports, it is declared, picture the people of those four states as feeling growing dissatisfaction with this step, but a real investigation and report on the results should be made. It is urged.

"We believe the question answers

HIGH'S

RUSSELL TAKES OATH; HE AND GEORGE RETAIN IMPORTANT POSITIONS

Georgia Delegation Committee Membership Are Announced.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Senator Richard B. Russell, Jr., of Georgia, was administered the oath of office today for a new six-year term.

Presenting credentials signed by Governor Eugene Talmadge, his opponent in the September primary, the Georgia junior senator was accompanied to the vice president's dais by Senator Walter F. George, senior member from the state.

Both Senator Russell and Senator George will retain the same committee assignments held during the past session. In addition to the privileges and elections committee, of which he is chairman, Senator George will be a member of finance, foreign relations and civil service, while Senator Russell will serve on appropriations, immigration, manufactures and naval affairs.

Moves Up Notch.
Senator Russell moves up a notch in seniority standing on at least three committees, naval affairs, immigration and manufactures, because of death and retirement of former members, but Senator George's status will remain unchanged. He is the third highest ranking member of finance and the fourth highest on foreign relations.

Proceedings on the house side saw all 10 Georgia congressmen taking the oath for new terms, since house members, unlike the senate, are elected every two years. As a time saver, however, the entire membership is sworn in together. Representative Stephen Pace, of Americus, the only new member of the state delegation, was administered the oath along with the others.

While the official slate has not yet been completed, it is not anticipated that any changes will take place in the past committee assignments of the Georgia delegation. Representative Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, dean of the delegation, will continue as chairman of the naval affairs body, and Representative Robert Ramspeck, of Atlanta, will again function as head of the civil service committee.

Mr. Pace, who succeeds former Representative Bryant T. Castellow, of Cuthbert, has not yet been notified of his committee assignments. Mr. Castellow was not a candidate for re-election.

Owen Promoted.
Representative Emmett Owen, of Griffin, has been put forward for a place on the important ways and means committee and may later on in the session be transferred there from agriculture, to which he presently is assigned. Georgia has not been represented on ways and means since the retirement four years ago of Judge Charles H. Crisp, of Americus, then acting chairman.

Assignments of other Georgia house members are Representative Malcolm C. Tarver, of Dalton, appropriations; Representative Eugene Cox, of Camilla, rules; Representative Paul Brown, of Elberton, banking and currency; Representative Hugh Peterson, of Ailey, public lands, rivers and harbors, roads and territories; Representative Frank Wheelock, of Gainesville, postoffice and post roads, and Representative Braswell Deen, of Alma, education, patents, war claims and the special committee on cross licensing and pooling of patents.

Besides the chairmanship of the civil service committee, Representative Ramspeck also holds places on claims, labor and merchant marine and fisheries.

CONGRESS RACES CUSE TO BAR ARMS TO SPAIN

Continued From First Page.

explosive issues in an effort to speed enactment. Officials said that if Cuse's shipment is within the three-mile limit when the legislation becomes law it can be seized.

Outcome Doubtful.
Whether congress would act in time to stop this shipment was doubtful. Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, of the senate foreign relations committee, planned to introduce tomorrow a resolution placing a flat congressional embargo on arm exports to Spain.

Congress ordinarily does not meet until noon, however, and tomorrow its calendar is crowded with President Roosevelt's annual message and the official closing of the electoral vote. Prior to the State Department's word regarding Cuse's action, Pittman predicted the embargo would be made law "by the end of this week."

One threat of bitter and time-consuming delay was removed when Pittman said that the embargo would be a mandatory congressional one, instead of giving President Roosevelt discretionary power to meet the situation. The President's original suggestion that he be allowed discretion touched off sharp controversy in some quarters of congress.

Nineteen export licenses were issued this morning to Dineley, the San Francisco dealer.

He listed as consignee for the shipment Felix Gordon, of Ordaz, whom he identified as the Spanish ambassador to Mexico. (Ordaz was reported en route by air to Washington today from his post in Mexico City on an unannounced mission.)

The new Dineley shipment was to be consigned to Ordaz at Valencia, Spain, seat of the Spanish Loyalist government, according to his application for license.

State Department officials declined to comment on reports that the Spanish government had established a large cash deposit in the United States to finance such shipments.

Pointing out that considerable time probably would be required for Dineley to assemble his proposed shipment and procure the necessary transportation, sources close to the administration felt there was little chance that his cargo could be dispatched before congress can act.

"It is obvious to us and should be obvious to the Spanish government," a State Department spokesman said, "that the chances for shipping under these (Dineley) licenses are exceedingly slight. Congress should have plenty of time to take the necessary action to stop them."

Officials Surprised.
Officials of the State Department's munitions control board said they were taken by surprise yesterday when they were informed by New York customs authorities that Cuse, the other would-be shipper, had presented his licenses for export in accordance with the law requiring 24 hours' notice in advance of loading of shipment.

Immediately on expiration of the 24-hour period at 1 p. m. today, they were informed, stevedores began trucking the first of the 100 heavy crates housing the 18 airplanes aboard the Mar Cantabrico.

Customs authorities, powerless under the law to deter the loading operations, telephoned Washington that 1,000 crates containing 511 engines had not yet arrived at the docks.

Germany Will Halt Reprisals on Ships

Continued From First Page.

Chief Erick Raeder, admiralty chief, was said to have prevailed upon Chancellor Hitler to adopt the announced course.

Also, Foreign Minister Konstantin Von Neurath was believed to have obtained, with Franco-British aid, assurances the Spanish government will refrain from further German ship seizures.

It is a spirit of conciliation, too, that Chancellor Hitler will reply to the Franco-British note asking a halt to enlistment of foreign volunteers to Spain, semi-official sources predicted.

Italy and Germany were in accord on the tenor of their replies and planned to present them January 7, it was stated. The answers will not be a clear cut "yes" or "no," a spokesman said.

Foreign office sources explained that Germany is ready to help put an end to volunteer participation in civil war, dependent upon what other powers are prepared to do.

"Even supposing all others agree to withdraw volunteers and prevent further volunteers going to Spain, what of Russia?" one official asked. "Has she not shown again and again she does not keep her pledged word? Without Soviet Russia, the matter would be relatively easy."

Socialists to Ignore German Ultimatum

Continued From First Page.

Bayonne, France, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Socialist Spanish government refused to accept the terms of a German ultimatum demanding release of sequestered cargo and a passenger of the Nazi freighter Palos.

Spokesmen for the Bilbao captors of the disputed cargo announced refusal of the three-day ultimatum which carried the threat Nazis would turn over to Spanish forces the freighters Aragon and Marta Junguera—captured by German warships.

The Bilbao refusal, which Basque officials said was decided upon by the Valencia government, added to a warning that "very grave" consequences would result if Nazi ships continued interference with Spanish shipping.

The commander of the Nazi warship Koenigsberg radioed the ultimatum to Valencia, setting the deadline at 8 a. m. Friday for return of the cargo and the passenger of the Palos—itsself released.

The Valencia government decided to ignore the communication because it was not forwarded through proper diplomatic channels, the Basques asserted.

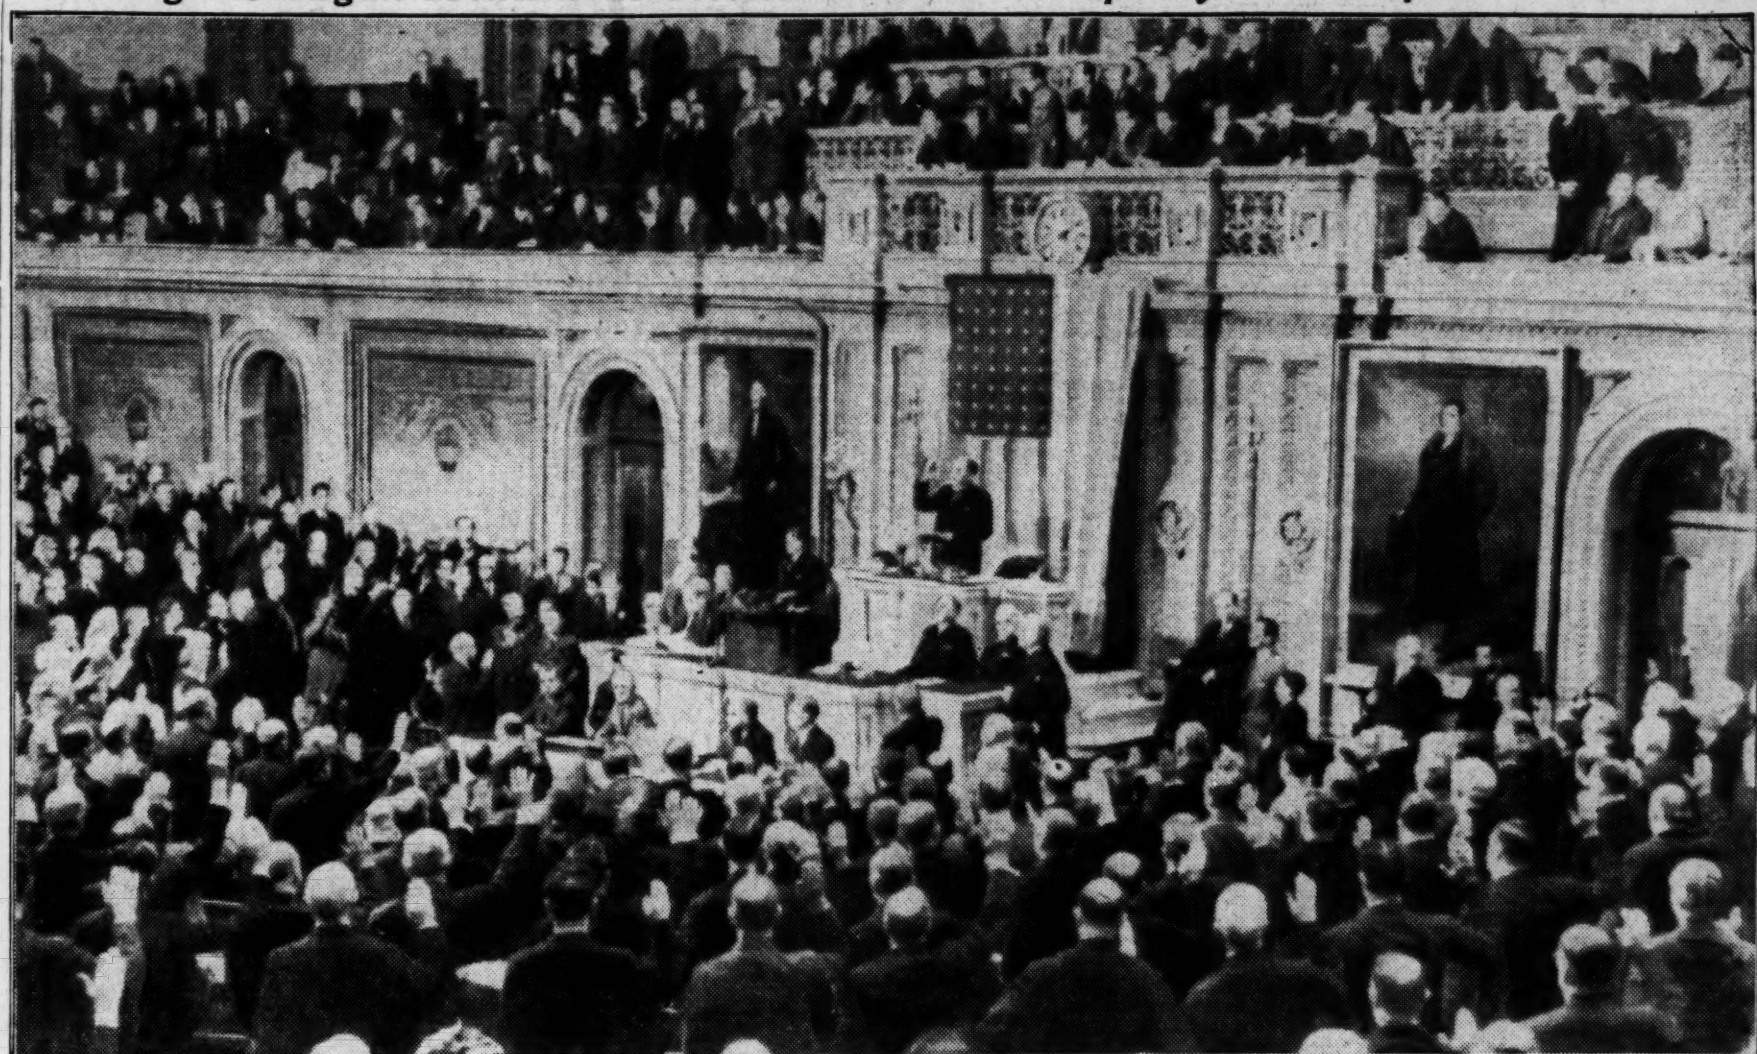

Related reports from Bilbao said the Koenigsberg halted and searched the British merchantman Blackhall after it was fired on by Spanish insurgent trawlers New Year's Day.

(Both German and British officials denied the Blackhall was halted and searched. Previous reports said Socialist warships came to the aid of the Blackhall and routed the insurgent attackers.)

BRITAIN DEMANDS ENLISTMENT REPLENISH.
LONDON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Great Britain demanded tonight that Italy and Germany speed their decisions whether to agree to force a halt to enlistment of foreign volunteers in the Spanish civil war while a series of diplomatic maneuvers heightened tension throughout Europe.

As Britain thus sought to bring to a climax one of the paramount problems of keeping the civil conflict confined to local dispute, the commander of the British destroyer Grafton informed London he

As Congress Began Momentous Session to Retain Prosperity and Keep Us Out of War

This picture shows the opening at noon yesterday of the 75th congress. Shown above is the assembly in the lower chamber as it was called to order. The 75th congress faces the vital tasks of making recovery permanent, devising legislation to keep the United States out of war and a solution of the relief problem.

George and Russell Confer Before Congress Opens

The above photograph shows Georgia's two senators just before congress was convened. Senator Richard B. Russell, on the left, was administered an oath for a new six-year term yesterday. Both Russell and Senator Walter F. George will retain the committee assignments they held during the last session of congress with Russell moving up a notch, in seniority, on at least three committees: Naval affairs, immigration and manufactures. The status of Senator George, on the finance, foreign relations and civil service committees, will be unchanged.

had been given "satisfactory" promises from Spanish Fascist patrol ships that British shipping rights around the strait of Gibraltar will be honored. This statement was in reply to British protest against the halting of the English merchant vessel Etrich by insurgent trawlers.

The Spanish Fascists, in explaining their halting and firing on the Etrich, were understood to have declared the vessel was mistaken for another craft "under suspicion."

The pledge not to trouble British ships around Gibraltar still left British vessels in other Spanish coastal areas without guarantees of safety from the insurgents.

British warships were ordered to remain ready to move on short notice if the admiralty should decide to use them in enforcing protection of British shipping.

Alfred Duff Cooper, British secretary of state, made a hasty trip to Paris and back to confer with French Defense Minister Edouard Daladier.

Although informed persons said the visit was informal, in some quarters it was considered significant.

Palos to London.
A Spanish note to Great Britain asked the London administration to present the Palos case before the international nonintervention committee for judgment.

The Spanish Socialist ambassador at London handed British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden a note in which his Valencia government held seizure of the Palos cargo was "a perfectly legitimate act" because it allegedly was composed of war materials.

It accused Germany of violating the European neutrality agreement to which it is a party, "firstly by supplying war materials to the armed rebel forces; next, by supplying them with contingents of troops, the 'volunteer' character of which was given away by the completeness of a German regiment; and finally, by provoking incidents in the sea."

The note did not mention Italian volunteers, but reliable reports in London that more than 10,000 Italians have reached Spain during the last two weeks.

AMBASSADOR TO PARIS REVEALS NAVAL PLANS.
PARIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Spanish Socialist government now is equipped with "some submarines" and two sizable warships ready to protect merchant shipping, Paris Ambassador Luis Araquistain disclosed tonight.

German warships will be torpedoed if they attempt any new attacks along the northern Basque coast, Araquistain predicted.

Fascist General Francisco Franco's present offensive never will result in the capture of Madrid, the ambassador said.

"There is no doubt on the subject of the government's receiving Russian assistance. We have been getting it right along," he added.

The Socialists have begun to produce their own munitions and airplanes and could win the war "on our own" if foreign assistance to both sides were curtailed, he asserted.

France viewed the reported influx of Italian Fascist fighters to Spain as the prelude to a negative answer to halt "volunteer enlistments."

Reported landing of 10,000 of the Italian volunteers to the cause of Franco, sources close to the foreign office said, constituted an "answer of fact."

FASCISTS CLAIM HIGHWAY IS CUT.
WITH FASCISTS, OUTSIDE MADRID, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Fascist insurgent troops were massed tonight for a drive southeast toward Madrid as their headquarters announced the Madrid-Escorial highway had been cut.

With the seizure of Las Rozas, 10 miles northwest of the capital, Fascist officials reported their troops dominated the vital road which connected Madrid with the rebel Escorial and the Guadarrama mountains.

The capture of Las Rozas, the Fascists said, followed a successful assault on the socialist militia lines at Majadahonda.

INSURGENTS MOVE REINFORCEMENTS TO MADRID.
MADRID, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Fascist insurgents drove toward Madrid tonight from the northwest, apparently in an effort to link the forces outside the city with those which already had gained a foothold within.

The left flank of General Francisco Franco's army operating west of Madrid moved to the El Escorial highway northwest of Madrid, advancing on Aravaca and Pozuelo after the government militiamen retreated from the bombed village of Majadahonda.

Chilean Ambassador Abelardo Nuñez Escorial and the Guadarrama mountains.

The rest of us got away safely, although twice the Russians got the Germans off the tail of my slow machine in the nick of time.

And when I did get to Bilbao safely, my machine was full of holes. I would have done much better, incidentally, if the observer had had a compass and also if he hadn't been so sleepy—he was an observer in the daytime and a hand leader at night, and didn't get much sleep.

A few days later, when we were sent to bomb the Mondragon ammunition dump, the unsteadiness of my ancient Breguet actually saved my life. The enemy had his "archies" trained on us and they were marvelous shots. They got the range almost perfectly in three shots. I had turned in the cockpit and in so doing relaxed the control stick, which I had to keep as far over that I was scrapping my hand on the control board.

Shot Barely Misses.
The plane swerved and in that instant a perfect shot whistled right through the spot where I should have been. The control worked right.

We went on four other bombing excursions during the next few days and were warned not to bomb open towns under penalty of being shot. I believe the Rebels were not so scrupulous.

At last our planes were worn out and so were our nerves—particularly after Eddie Schneider had broken his propeller, trying to land uphill on one-way field, and had to pull his own automatic first to keep from being shot by the commandant for damaging his plane.

Finally, Schneider and the other Americans left Bilbao and I quit.

When I did so the Russians asked me to fly for them, but I had had enough.

Russian Airmen.
The Russians had their own air-drome, their own unit, a marvelous discipline and didn't mix with the Spaniards. They were so well organized and alert that they could be over Bilbao in less than a minute after the alarm. They were swell fellows.

I got to Barcelona all right and arranged for tickets and passes for myself and wife—who joined me at Bilbao—but when we got to Port Bou we were thrown in jail because we failed to have the Catalan government stamps on our passes.

While jailed there that night there was a bombing raid, which was not too comfortable when you were locked in.

And, curiously, all the towns we had ous shots. They got the range almost perfectly in three shots. I had turned in the cockpit and in so doing relaxed the control stick, which I had to keep as far over that I was scrapping my hand on the control board.

Shot Barely Misses.
The plane swerved and in that instant a perfect shot whistled right through the spot where I should have been. The control worked right.

We went on four other bombing excursions during the next few days and were warned not to bomb open towns under penalty of being shot. I believe the Rebels were not so scrupulous.

At last our planes were worn out and so were our nerves—particularly after Eddie Schneider had broken his propeller, trying to land uphill on one-way field, and had to pull his own automatic first to keep from being shot by the commandant for damaging his plane.

Finally, Schneider and the other Americans left Bilbao and I quit.

When I did so the Russians asked me to fly for them, but I had had enough.

Russian Airmen.
The Russians had their own air-drome, their own unit, a marvelous discipline and didn't mix with the Spaniards. They were so well organized and alert that they could be over Bilbao in less than a minute after the alarm. They were swell fellows.

I got to Barcelona all right and arranged for tickets and passes for myself and wife—who joined me at Bilbao—but when we got to Port Bou we were thrown in jail because we failed to have the Catalan government stamps on our passes.

While jailed there that night there was a bombing raid, which was not too comfortable when you were locked in.

And, curiously, all the towns we had

Theater Programs

Picture and Stage Shows

First-Run Pictures

Neighborhood Theaters

Colored Theaters

Will Cash help you?

North American

Loan & Savings Association

Ga. Theatre

THE PLAINSMAN

STARTS FRIDAY!

THE PLAINSMAN

STARTS FRIDAY!

THE PLAINSMAN

STARTS FRIDAY!

THE PLAINSMAN

STARTS FRIDAY!

THE PLAINSMAN

STARTS FRIDAY!

THE PLAINSMAN

passed through were bombed a few hours afterward—causing the Spaniards to think we were spies.

France looked like heaven when we finally were released and allowed to cross the border.

DAYTONA'S MAYOR ENDS ARMED VIGIL

Political Situation Calms as Sholtz Goes Out of Office.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The calming political situation allowed police to quit their five-day go of guard duty at city hall today and Mayor Irene Armstrong to attend to her neglected housework.

The grandmother-mayor, in announcing the fortified city hall would be open tomorrow, administered a parting verbal slap to Dave Sholtz, the one-time Daytonian whose term as Florida's governor ended today at noon.

"Now David Sholtz no longer is governor, we have nothing to fear of further attempts to invade the city hall," she said, "the supreme court will decide the issues involved, and I will respect its judgment."

It was Sholtz who ordered Mrs. Armstrong and three companion city commissioners ousted on charges of overspending the city's 1936 budget, incompetency, and lack "of sound judgment."

BARRYMORE BEREFT OF HIS PROPERTY, TOO

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 5.—(AP) John Barrymore, separated from his bride since New Year's Eve, today found himself deprived also of his salary, his bank account and his Beverly Hills mansion.

Attorney Stanley Arndt, to satisfy a $987.88 judgment for legal services, caused the sheriff's office to attach the Barrymore possessions.

Meanwhile there was no hint of a break in the feud between the actor and his bride, the former Elaine Barrie. Barrymore appeared to be doing a thoroughgoing job of staying away.

LUGGAGE FROM TURNER'S

is identified immediately as it has individuality others lack.

W. Z. Turner Luggage Co.

219 PEACHTREE ST.

CAPITOL

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

STAGE

WARREN HULL

Welcome Is Extended by Junior Leaguers to Eleanor D. Sledge

By Sally Forth.

JUNIOR LEAGUERS are extending hospitable greeting to Eleanor Dawson Sledge, the attractive newcomer in their midst, who arrived in Atlanta last week. Her marriage to Lamar Cobb Sledge, a member of that well-known and socially prominent family in Athens, took place on December 23 in Fairbanks, Texas. Eleanor and Lamar reached here last Sunday after a leisurely motor trip through several states and are ensconced in their apartment on The Prado in Ansley Park.

Among the lures and penates beautifying their home is a priceless antique in the form of a Duncan Phyfe sofa, which was a wedding present from Lamar's mother, Mrs. E. D. Sledge, of Athens. Auburn-haired Eleanor is exceedingly charming, and possesses a natural flair for selecting her clothes and wears her habiliments with great distinction.

Eleanor made a very favorable impression upon the colony of Atlantians who spend every summer at Highlands in the North Carolina mountains, and they will add their welcome to that of the Junior Leaguers.

THE laugh is on a well-known Atlanta businessman, a prominent layman in one of the city's largest churches. It is his annual custom to remember his pastor with a very generous, as well as a very practical, Christmas gift.

Accordingly, several weeks before the holidays he called on the minister and told him to go to a leading haberdashery and select for himself a new suit of clothes which was to be his Christmas present. The minister was delighted, of course, with such a magnificent gift, and he did not delay in making a selection of a very handsome suit.

Imagine the layman's surprise, then, when announcement was made on the Sunday preceding Christmas that his minister had resigned his pastorate to take up other work. And the donor of the magnificent gift had not even received his bill for the suit!

THAT there is nothing in a name may be right nine times out of ten, but the tenth time is usually a different story. When pretty Ida Akers came home from school in Washington to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Akers, she met a very attractive young man who asked for a date. Ida informed him that the first day she had open was June 1.

He seemed rather agast that he should have to wait five months for a date, even though Ida was considered one of the most popular members of the younger set. Faint heart never won fair lady, so he rather reluctantly accepted June 1. Ida, however, failed to tell him that from January 1 to the last of May she would be having dates with her textbooks at Gunston Hall in the national capital, and it really would be June 1 before she would be back in Atlanta to give him the date.

Several days later, Ida received a large box of roses with the card inclosed reading "Harold Mercer." She racked her brain in an effort to place an admirer with such a name, but even with the aid of her mother it was impossible to place him. Two days passed and the young man called "Well," he said, "does saying it with flowers help me get a date before June 1?"

"Saying it with flowers?" answered Ida. "Why, I haven't received any flowers from you. That is, unless 'Harold Mercer' is one of your aliases."

"Harold Mercer? What are you talking about? I called the florist on the phone and ordered some red roses for you and asked the girl to inclose a card saying 'Have Mercy.' We must have had a bad connection for her to have interpreted it as 'Harold Mercer.'"

THE guests at Virginia Hart's unique gypsy luncheon were fascinated by the predictions of the fortune teller who went from table to table reading each person's future. One of the predictions told to a pretty blond debutante concerning a doctor she is going with was so accurate that everybody listened with real interest. She described the young man perfectly, told his profession, predicted an early marriage for the two, and said they would live on Pace's Ferry road in a lovely white house. The facts about the doctor are true, and whether this romance will culminate like the soothsayer predicts, remains to be seen.

When the fortune teller came to Frances Orr Vance (Mrs. Robert Vance), the young matron slipped her rings off. And guess what she was told? That she was going to be married in June—that the young man she had a date with that evening would ask for another date, and then he would propose! The girls at Frances' table burst into laughter, but not until later did the fortune teller realize what the joke was. Virginia heard about the incident, and brought the woman over to Frances and introduced her to "Mrs. Robert Vance." Was that fortune teller's face red?

For Miss Forster.

Miss Dorothy Forster, of Dayton, Ohio, the attractive guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kuyper, a hostess at a luncheon on Sunday. Miss Martha Williams and Miss Mary Frances Wilson were hostesses and the guests included the Seminoles, Arapaho and Navajo cabin owners who attended Camp Koo-wee-ta last summer. Guests included Misses Martha Beck, Jane Hawk, Mamie Sue Barker, Peggy Foster, Geraldine Cotton, Jim. Betty Gargis, Carol Ingram, Myrtle Jermain, Virginia Henderson, Douglas Lyle, Jacqueline McPherson, Mary Louise Palmer, Mary Alice Whitman, Annie Laurie Mune, Mary Starny, Marion Jack and Pauline Trimble.

Japanese families have been known to pay large sums to have the stolen pictures of Emperor Hirohito returned to them.

For Comfort
DR. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES
By Drew
216 Peachtree Street

Lovely Member of the 1936-37 Debutante Club

Pictured above is Miss Anne Williams, lovely member of the 1936-37 Debutante Club, and daughter of Mrs. Kendrick Goldsmith. Miss Williams is among admired members of the current debut club and her formal entry into society has been marked by a series of important social affairs given in her honor. She made her bow during the early fall at an appetizer party given by her maternal aunts, Mrs. Philip Alston and Mrs. Rhodes Perdue, at the new home of Mrs. Rhodes on West Pace's Ferry road. She is a petite and beautiful blonde, with clear gray eyes, possesses a distinctive personality, and a sweetness of manner which have won her a wide circle of friends. She attended Washington Seminary, where she took an active part in school activities. The sketch of Miss Williams was made by Grace Scarboro from a photograph by Assano, Japanese photographer.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Charles McAllister leaves today for Greenville, S. C., where she will visit Mrs. W. D. Parrish and Mr. and Mrs. P. Apperson. She will be accompanied by the Cotillion Club dance this evening and will be entertained at a series of social affairs while visiting in Greenville.

Miss Edith Harrison is in Athens, where she will speak today before the Ladies' Garden Club on "Designing a Garden."

Willis Jones has resumed his studies at the University of Virginia. He was accompanied by Robert St. John, of Washington, D. C., a student at the university, who spent the holidays with Mr. Jones at his Peachtree road home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bellman will leave Saturday for New York where they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, of Akron, Ohio, and will sail January 12 for a Caribbean cruise.

Dr. Ralph H. Aiken and Mrs. Aiken, whose wedding was an event of the Christmas holidays, are at the Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. Walker Dunson is ill at the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Mrs. Frank Lipscomb has returned to Athens after visiting her sister, Mrs. Bolling Jones Jr., at her home on West Pace's Ferry road.

Miss Cathryn Sammons has returned from Columbus, where she spoke before the Junior League of that city on child welfare.

Saunders Jones has returned to New York city after spending the holidays in Atlanta with Mr. and Mrs. Bolling Jones Jr. at their home on West Pace's Ferry road.

Miss Jennie McDonald Duke has returned to Wesleyan College in Macon after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duke, in Druid Hills.

Mrs. William D. Ellis Jr. and Mrs. Vassar Woolley are in Miami, Fla., where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weatherwax announce the birth of a son on January 3 at the Baptist hospital in New Orleans. Mrs. Weatherwax is the former Miss Elizabeth Wesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wesley, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McBurney are at Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart Brock and children have returned to their home in Haleyville, Ala., after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. James Harrison on Twenty-sixth street.

Dr. Crawford P. Barnett Jr. is recuperating at the Georgia Baptist hospital from a recent operation.

Miss Mirielle Capdeville returns today from Miami, Fla., where she spent the past two weeks.

General James L. Driver, past commander of the Georgia division, U. C. T., left yesterday for Fort Myers, Fla., where he will spend the remainder of the winter at 2127 Fowler street.

Mrs. O. A. Harbin is spending two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. James Grant, at Miami, Fla.

Jackson Dick Jr. and Henry A. Dick will return today to St. Paul's school in Concord, N. H., after spending the Christmas vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Dick.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell King and Mitchell King Jr. have returned from a motor trip to Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Malon Courts have returned from Sapelo Island, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reynolds.

Mrs. Charles Whitmore, grandmother of the young honor guest, and Miss Elsie Whitmore, of Boston, Mass., assisted in entertaining the 30 young guests.

Miss Couch Weds

Newt M. Landers

In Marietta, Ga.

MARIETTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—At an impressive ceremony taking place on Saturday at high noon Miss Elizabeth Couch and Newt Malone Landers, of Dalton, were married here at the First Baptist church, with Rev. George Brown performing the ceremony before an assemblage of friends and relatives.

Ferns and palms formed a background around the altar from which rose four seven-branched candelabra in which were placed cathedral tapers which cast a glow over floor baskets filled with white gladioli. A musical program was rendered by Mrs. W. H. Elsas, of Atlanta, and she accompanied Mrs. Wesley McTee, the soloist.

Ushers were Willis Moore, of Dalton; Marion Tulley, of Chattanooga; and Charles Oliphant and William Crumley, of Marietta. Miss Cora Couch was her sister's only attendant. She was attractively attired in a modish blue-gray wool suit with which she wore a coronation blue blouse. Her hat was banded in navy, her accessories were of the same shade and she wore white gardenias.

The lovely bride entered with her father, J. H. Couch, by whom she was given in marriage, and they met at the altar the groom and best man, Tom Perkins, of Marietta. The bride was handsome in a three-piece gray broadcloth suit, the three-quarter coat being trimmed in blue fox. Her blouse was of ice blue satin with rhinestone clips. Her hat and accessories were gray and her shoulder bouquet was of purple orchids.

The young couple left for a wedding journey through the Carolinas and Kentucky and on their return will reside in Dalton.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Willis Moore, Dalton; Mr. R. Elsas, Atlanta; Mr. Henry Hyers, of Chattanooga; Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Berry Swilling, Augusta; W. P. Seltzer, Chattanooga; Miss Lois McDonald, Bolton; Charles and J. T. Blount, of Waycross.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6.

Rose Garden Club meets at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. A. Garrett on Woodward way.

Wednesday Morning Study Club meets with Mrs. Granger Hansell at 1788 Ponce de Leon at 10:30 o'clock.

Garden Hills Woman's Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Fifth district division, Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers, meets at 10 o'clock at the Ansley hotel.

Atlanta Pioneer Women's Society meets at Rich's at 2:30 o'clock.

The study group in literature of the Atlanta branch of University Women will meet at 3 o'clock with Mrs. S. C. Hall, 1403 Emory road, N. E.

W. M. S. of Capitol View Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of East Atlanta Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of Longley Avenue Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Executive board of Bass Junior High P. T. A. meets at 9:30 o'clock in the ladies' parlor at the school.

Executive board of Glennwood P. T. A. meets at 9 o'clock, followed by first class in the study course.

S. M. Inman preschool study group meets at 10:15 o'clock.

Auxiliary-Guild of St. Timothy's church meets at 11 o'clock with Mrs. Philip Shaw, 227 Third avenue, S. E.

Alathian Class of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry D. Kahrs, 673 Cumberland circle, N. E., at 2:30 o'clock.

Executive board of Fifth Avenue School P. T. A. meets at 9:30 o'clock at the school.

Atlanta Lodge No. 230, Ladies' Auxiliary to the B. of R. T., meets at 2:30 o'clock in the Red Men's wigwam.

Modern Topics Club meets at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. T. D. Body, 531 Peoples street.

Pi Pi Club meets this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alice Clarke on Springdale road.

Peachtree Hills Woman's Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Flournoy, 16 Fairhaven circle, N. E.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Alex C. King Jr. entertained at a children's party Monday at her home on Peachtree road in compliment to her young son, Charles Whitmore King, who celebrated his sixth birthday.

Mrs. Charles Whitmore, grandmother of the young honor guest, and Miss Elsie Whitmore, of Boston, Mass., assisted in entertaining the 30 young guests.

Smith College Club Members Hold Annual Luncheon

Atlanta Smith College Club members held the annual luncheon recently at which welcome was extended to Mrs. M. H. Sterne, an alumna from Birmingham, the guest of Mrs. Herman Heyman, and to Mrs. H. G. McClintock, a new member, who recently moved to Atlanta from California.

Attending were Mrs. George Kaulbach, president; Mrs. S. M. Page Rees, vice president; Miss Sue Clafin, treasurer, and Mrs. Frank O'Garra, secretary; Mrs. Charles Currie, Mrs. Herman Heyman, Mrs. W. R. Sims and Mrs. Helen Robertson.

A benefit bridge for the club's scholarship student at Smith College will be held later this month. Mrs. Currie will be hostess to the club at an evening meeting in April.

Mrs. George Kaulbach, president of the Atlanta Club, gave an interesting account of the Emory centennial, which she attended as a representative of Smith.

Miss Rachel Neely, represented Smith at the Wesleyan centennial exercises held last autumn.

Mrs. Herman Heyman, Mrs. W. R. Sims and Miss Rachel Neely were among the members to receive invitations to the recent Phi Beta Kappa dinners held here.

Any alumna of Smith College who is not a member of the club is requested to communicate with Mrs. S. M. Page Rees, as the club is anxious to have alumnae names enrolled on the roster.

Pan Hellenic Group Meets January 8

Executive committee of Atlanta Woman's Pan Hellenic Association meets January 8 at 10:30 in the council room of the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Mrs. Claude Grizzard is president of the association. Mrs. Alan M. Abele is secretary, and Mrs. W. A. Morrison is treasurer. The executive committee of the organization is composed of the officers and an official representative of each sorority holding membership in the National Pan Hellenic Congress, of which there are 22 in Atlanta.

Following the meeting of the executive committee, the regular mid-winter meeting of the association will be held in a private dining room of the Athletic Club on January 16 at 1:30 o'clock. All members of N. P. C. sororities are urged to attend the luncheon meeting and any one not having an alumnae association in Atlanta is invited to this open meeting.

Avondale Estates Social News.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Boyle, of Clarendon road, in Avondale Estates, will move in 10 days to Orlando, Fla., where Mr. Boyle has been transferred by his company.

Mrs. McCoy Van Deventer entertains the Friday Night Club this week at her home on Dartmouth avenue.

Mrs. W. C. Henry, of Clarendon road, was hostess on Monday at a luncheon for her contract club.

Miss Daisy Allen, of Rome, who visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bond, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Young, of LaGrange, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. McCoy Van Deventer.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Smith, of Chicago, Ill., recently visited Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Boyle.

Forbes Antrim, of Orlando, Fla., spent Friday in Avondale Estates. He left Saturday for Lafayette, Ind., where he is a junior at Purdue University.

Miss Carolyn Barker was hostess at a party for the younger set on Saturday evening at her home on Avondale road.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Brogle and Mrs. J. T. Brogle, of Rockville Centre, Long Island, who spent Christmas with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heinicke, on Exeter road, have returned home.

Mrs. Lee A. Green is convalescing from an appendix operation at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Mrs. W. H. Goulder entertains the Avalon Contract Club at luncheon on Thursday.

Junior League Meeting Revolves Around Plans for '1937 Follies'

Complete plans for the Junior League Follies and cabaret, which will be important events of January 29 and 30, were discussed by members of the Junior League at the meeting held yesterday at the Piedmont Driving Club. Mrs. Murdoch Ewen, president of the League, announced that more than 60 members had devoted the greater part of the past two months to working out preliminary details and business arrangements in connection with the show, and that during the remainder of January efforts would be concentrated on rehearsals, preparations for the three performances and sale of purchase coupons for tickets.

Arthur Seelig, in charge of the production, told the membership that in his entire theatrical experience he had never seen preliminary details completed so far in advance and expressed special commendation to the committee for the outstanding way in which arrangements had been made, clearing the way for immediate and concentrated work on the actual performances.

Mrs. Dan Conklin outlined the general nature of the show which will be a combination of extravaganza and revue in 28 scenes and Mrs. E. W. Richardson Jr. stated that she had just reviewed the script and was confident that with the sparkling tunes that have been written especially for the follies, the comedy skits with a real Broadway flavor and the large array of talent already assembled, the follies would reach a new high for professional entertainment with local casting.

Mrs. Gus Loyless reported that 300 prominent Atlantians had purchased seats for the three performances and will occupy a portion of the center section. Mrs. Loyless stated that patrons' seats would continue on sale for the next week and could be secured by calling her at Cherokee 1475.

Mrs. Eugene Harrington, ticket chairman, distributed to the members purchase coupons which may be exchanged for reserved seats when the box office opens later in the month and stated that two round-trip tickets to Bermuda would be presented to the member selling the largest number of purchase coupons. She also announced that the three members selling the largest number would be eligible to compete for two round-trip tickets to Europe aboard the Normandie in a nation-wide competition conducted by the producing organization in charge of the Follies.

Mrs. Edward van Winkle Jr. and Mrs. Claud McGinnis Jr., assistant scouts, announced that 70 members for the several choruses had already gone into rehearsals and that 30 would be given try-outs Wednesday evening for specialty dances, solo parts and lead roles.

Mrs. Martin Kilpatrick showed the membership a layout of the special coronation edition which will be used as a souvenir program and told of several unusual features and art sketches that would be included in the edition in addition to the large volume of local and national advertising.

Mrs. Frank Boston told of tentative arrangements for the cabaret, the details of which will be announced at a later date, and Mrs. Francis Gilbert reported that a large group of members had been secured to serve as ushers.

A special edition of the Cotton Blossom, published by the League, will be devoted to the follies. Mrs. Albert Howell Jr., the editor, stated, and it will appear later in the month.

Mrs. Edwin Lockridge read a letter from Alvin Cates, head of the recent Community Chest drive, expressing appreciation for the co-operation of League members in the campaign and Mrs. Joseph Cooper Jr. announced that turkeys had been provided for the Christmas dinner of the Lone Men's division of the Public Welfare Department.

It was stated at the meeting that Mrs. John Ottley Jr. and Mrs. Francis Gilbert were attending a regional conference in St. Petersburg, Fla., and that a large exhibit of art and other crafts done by members was being exhibited at the conference.

Atlanta Woman's Club Holds Two Meetings.

The house committee of the Atlanta Woman's Club meets this morning at 10:30 o'clock, with the chairman, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, presiding. Members of the committee are Mesdames Alonzo Richardson, Harry G. Poole, E. W. Gottenstrater, Jessie M. Manry, James A. Greene, C. A. Rhodes, Charles R. Hartsfield, Howard C. McCutcheon, W. F. Melton and Miss Virginia Hardin.

The executive board meets Friday morning at 10 o'clock, in the palm room with the first vice president, Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, presiding. Important business will be transacted and plans for the coming spring will be formulated. Mrs. W. F. Melton, club president, requests a full attendance at both meetings.

To Clear!

200 Pairs of SHOES

Usually priced at $4.45. These shoes must go! Wonderful values in pumps and ties. High heels, mostly brown suede. Broken sizes. On table.

DOWNSTAIRS

J. P. ALLEN & CO

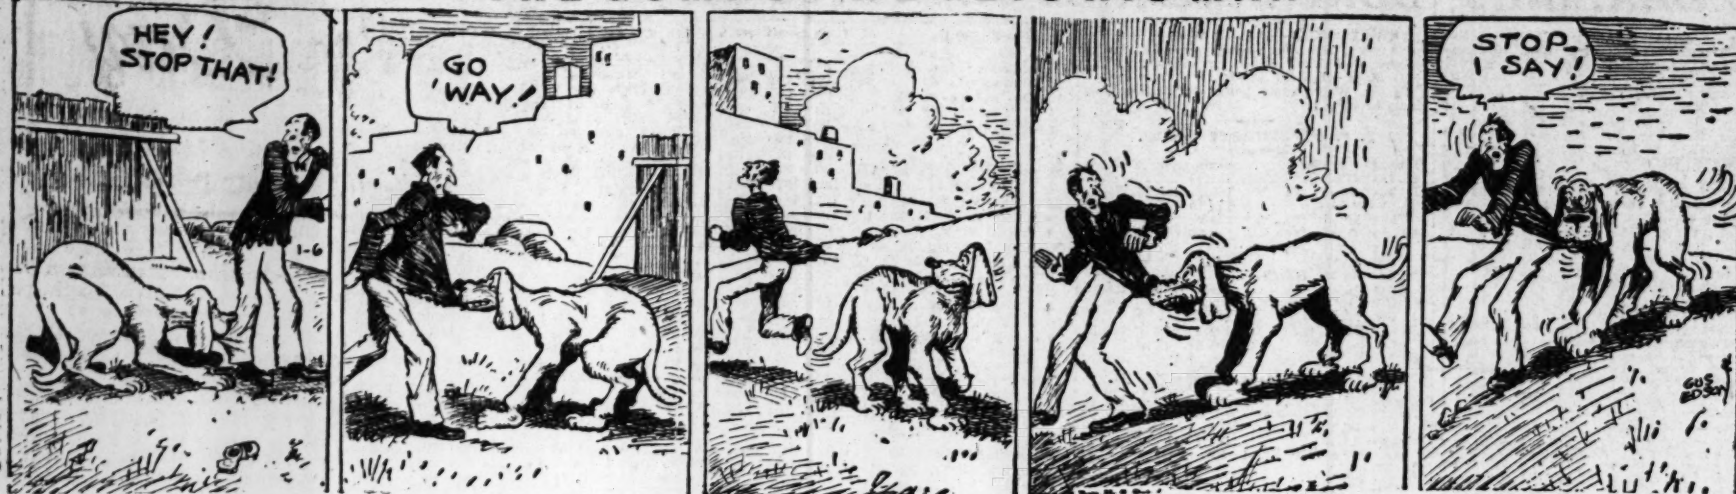

"The Store All Women Know"

THERE'S A CLOUD ON JANE'S HAPPINESS

she's risking Cosmetic Skin

JOAN BLONDELL WARNER BROTHERS STAR

THE GUMPS—HE GETS HIS MAN

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—WHAT BIG HANDS YOU HAVE

MOON MULLINS—A JOINT ACCOUNT

DICK TRACY—REPRIMAND

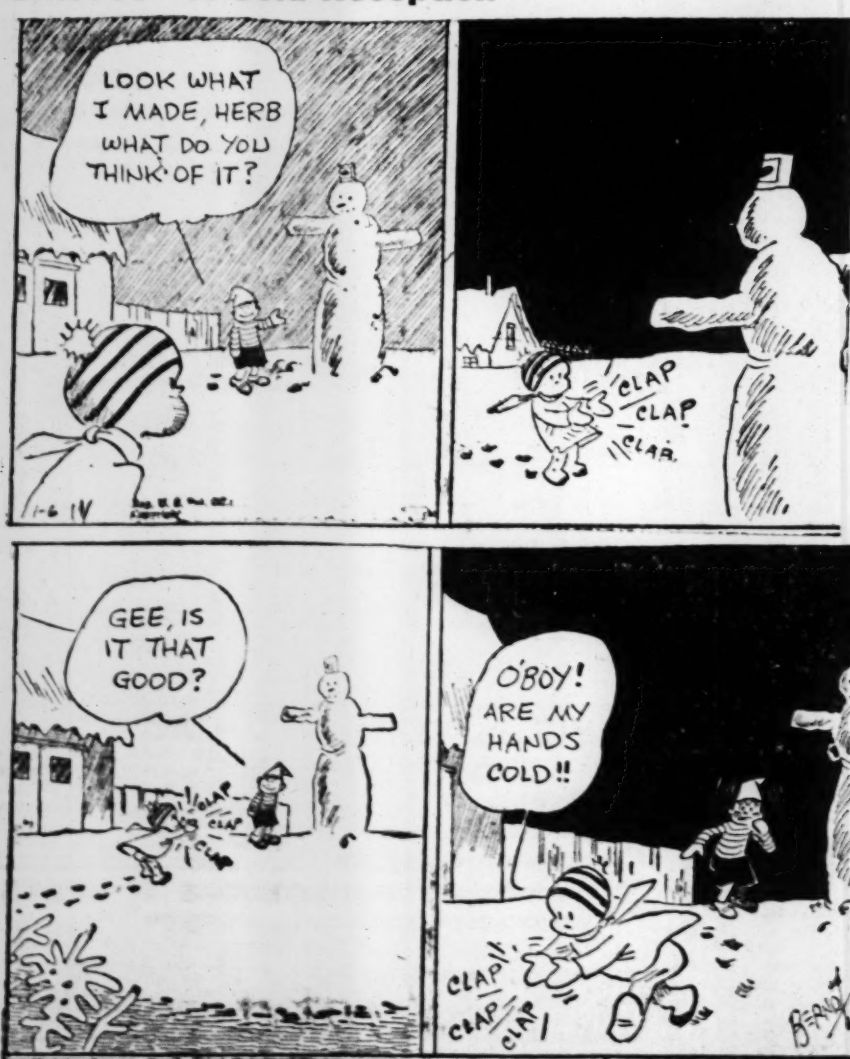

JANE ARDEN --- Jane Learns the Truth

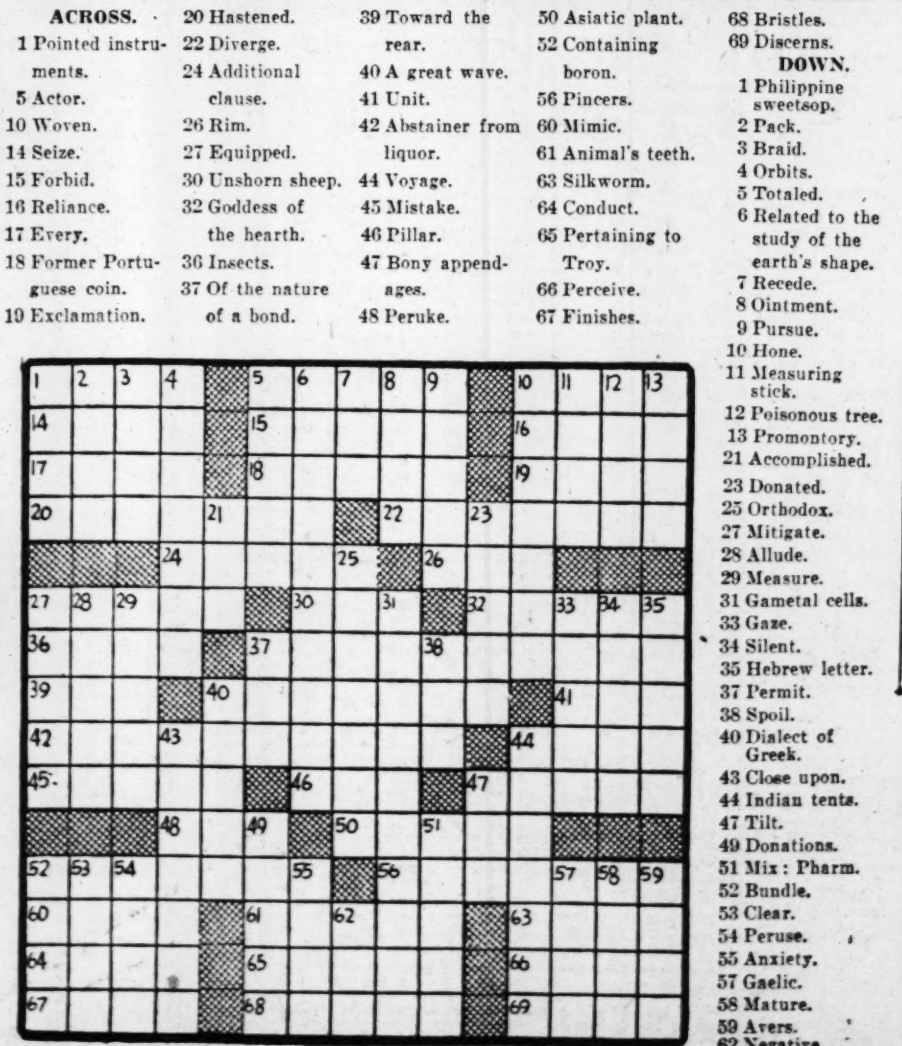

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

SMITTY—A Cold Reception

CONSTITUTION'S DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

ROMANCE, PREFERRED

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

Philip saw Mr. Leeds downtown one day and called the same evening. Arlen was genuinely glad to see him and knew it was unfair to compare this young man with Renny.

"You'll probably find it awfully dull here," Philip said apologetically, "after New York."

"I've had some dull moments in New York," said Arlen. "When you're a nobody, they make you feel it more keenly than here. I suppose you're going to be a star of dances and seeing all the football games."

What his eyes asked he did not try to evade. "Yes, Philip, I had to come back," Karen left. You knew, of course.

"Yes, but I didn't know why you went to New York in the first place. You have plenty of friends here who would have helped you."

She smiled. "It's my pride again, Philip. I couldn't feel that my New York when I was walking my shoe soles thin looking for work."

She laughed at the horror in his eyes that she had done such a thing. "Yes, I did! You're never a part of the thundering herd until you've been both hungry and lived in the clouds. I did both. The only experience I missed was the park bench."

He smiled but he saw no humor in what she said. He saw that she had changed, older perhaps, made more gentle but no less youthful. Walking her shoe soles thin. He believed that a man had more to do with her deeper understanding than the worn shoes. Philip was so solidly rooted he had no idea what one did in a strange city without parents or school friends.

"Tell me about the old crowd, Philip."

"On New Year's Eve," he said, brightening with the memory. "We threw a private party and for the public's amusement, I advise you to settle quietly."

"What am I going to live on?"

"You'll probably have to do what I did—earn your own living."

Karen smiled. "And I don't doubt that you'll be working for me. I think I'm getting what's due me. Well, let me tell you—I walked out on him and if I wanted to come back, he'd take me. You'd be then how long you'd stay? I have finished with you and I haven't begun with George. I'll give you and all your snooty neighbors something to talk about when I finish my work."

What did I get married for? It's not my fault if I can't live with an old man. I can't put on house slippers and go to bed at nine.

Arlen got up to end it. "You'll get a great deal less if you fight for it. I know father. I'll tell him you were here and if you'll leave your address, he'll get in touch with you."

"I called his office and he wouldn't talk to me," she gave Arlen the name of an apartment hotel.

"I don't think he'd want to discuss his personal affairs in the office," Karen turned. "I left some of my things upstairs."

When she came down with a bag, she paused in the hall and said, "You will hear from me if I don't hear from you. And I want this finished in a hurry. I want to go away."

"Isn't that my car you came in?" "Your car? He gave it to me."

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLIN

After lunch Arlen dressed, put on a raincoat and a felt hat, and left the house. It was a very damp figure indeed that presented itself in the office of her father's lawyer.

"Oh, hello, Arlen," greeted John Ness. "Sorry to have kept you waiting so long. You haven't violated the traffic laws again, have you?"

"I came to see you about father," said Arlen and told him of Karen's threats.

"She can't get anything," he said. "She left and refuses to come back."

"She says he struck her."

"No real grounds there either, my dear. It seems it is the privilege of a husband to give his wife at least one black eye. Ghostly business for you, isn't it? You were always a sensitive child, and your mother..." He shook his head. "Your stepmother won't find it profitable to make trouble."

"That is just what she'd like."

"This sort of thing happens every day in the best regulated families. I suggest that your father and your stepmother and you meet here in the office some afternoon and we'll make an end of this father's great mistake."

"I hope it does get into court," Arlen said desperately.

"You can be assured that he won't have to pay her anything."

His secretary opened the door to see if she were still there. Arlen got up and pulled on her gloves. John Ness got up and drew her close to him as if she were a child.

"I'm a lawyer and part of my business is getting divorces for people and door Arlen had time to snatch up small Peter who was playing before the fire and take him upstairs to his mother, Gerda, the maid. The activity of running upstairs seemed to soothe rather than excite Arlen for the ordeal before her. She looked like the housemaid in her cotton smock and sensible shoes in comparison with Karen in her luxurious new black coat, her recently waved red hair, and new suede shoes.

"I came to see you," said Karen. "I knew you were here. And I came to get some of my things."

When Arlen did not answer, she went on disdainfully. "I've got a wife's rights and I'll fight for them. You can't get around the law. Your father abused me. He hit me. I had to leave but—he's going to pay."

"If he offered to take you back, would you come?"

"What do you think I am? I know when I'm not wanted. I wouldn't come back to save his life. But he's not going to get rid of me as easily as that. He's got to pay me."

It seems to me that the jewelry and silver you took would keep you comfortably for a time.

"They're mine, aren't they?" "They were my mother's. What he gave you is yours. But he didn't give you everything."

"They're mine, by rights," protested Karen vigorously.

Arlen said, "My father wants to settle this as quietly as possible. He despises publicity, and I believe if it came to that you'd suffer more than he."

"Why? Why should I?" "Because he's fairly well known. He knew nothing about you except that you were a model. If you don't want your name linked with the public's amusement, I advise you to settle quietly."

"What am I going to live on?" "You'll probably have to do what I did—earn your own living."

Karen smiled. "And I don't doubt that you'll be working for me. I think I'm getting what's due me. Well, let me tell you—I walked out on him and if I wanted to come back, he'd take me. You'd be then how long you'd stay? I have finished with you and I haven't begun with George. I'll give you and all your snooty neighbors something to talk about when I finish my work."

What did I get married for? It's not my fault if I can't live with an old man. I can't put on house slippers and go to bed at nine.

Arlen got up to end it. "You'll get a great deal less if you fight for it. I know father. I'll tell him you were here and if you'll leave your address, he'll get in touch with you."

"I called his office and he wouldn't talk to me," she gave Arlen the name of an apartment hotel.

"I don't think he'd want to discuss his personal affairs in the office," Karen turned. "I left some of my things upstairs."

When she came down with a bag, she paused in the hall and said, "You will hear from me if I don't hear from you. And I want this finished in a hurry. I want to go away."

"Isn't that my car you came in?" "Your car? He gave it to me."

Let him know how it feels.

Somehow those husbands who come sliding home in their stocking feet at 3 a. m. seem to us to have missed the point entirely. We've been told that it's not Harvey's coming in late that bothers a wife so much. What gets her down is not coming in the two or three hours after he said he would be home whether he's in a poker game or a hospital. Yet, Harvey never seems to get the idea.

There's just one way we know of to prove to Harvey that what you really want is assurance and not slavery. That is to step out yourself some night, and give him a taste of his own vagrancy. Tell him that you expect to be home by 11. Then be sure to stay out until 12:30 anyhow. When you come in, take off your shoes and pretend you don't know he's peering round the bedroom door.

Pretty soon he'll start making remarks. And when he gets to the place where he says that he doesn't mind your staying out late once in a while, but when you said you'd be home by 11 and didn't get there, he was just worried, that was all, and why in the name of thunder didn't you call him up when he gets to that point, you've won.

Just one more thing. Don't try this cure on a man who thinks that Hitler probably has the right idea after all. It won't work.

JEAN (Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

THE STORY OF CHINA.

III—CHINESE BUDDHISTS. At about the same time Confucius was teaching in China, another famous man was at work in India. He was born a prince, and went by the name of "Gautama," (also spelled "Gottama"). He spent most of the years of his long life preaching to Hindus and others in his native land.

"Long is the night to him who is awake. Long is a mile to him who is tired. Long is life to the foolish who do not know the true law (of Buddhism)."

"A person who masters himself is greater than one who wins a battle against a thousand times a thousand men."

"Let us live happily. Let us not hate those who hate us."

"Let a man overcome anger by doing good. Let him overcome the greedy by being kind. Let him overcome lies by telling the truth."

Buddhism did not spread to China until about 500 years after the death of the Buddha. Then a Chinese ruler invited missionaries to come from India and teach the meaning of the faith.

Some of the Chinese people liked the Buddhist teachings, and within a few hundred years the religion spread far and wide. Thousands of men became monks or priests, and great numbers of monasteries and temples were built. The temples were of the pagoda type, and are common in present-day China.

The Buddhist church has split into many branches, and the beliefs of one branch are not quite the same as those of another. There are certain common beliefs, however, which are common to Buddhists in general, and these include:

"Thou shalt not lie. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not drink alcoholic liquor. Thou shalt not be stingy. Thou shalt not be angry."

(For History section of your scrapbook.) Riddles, games and puzzles will be found in the "Funmaker" leaflet. If you would like a copy send a 3-cent stamped, return envelope to Uncle Ray in care The Constitution.

Uncle Ray

Tomorrow—The Chows and the Grand Canal. (Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

STOCKS MORE STEADY AS STRIKE END IS SEEN

Motors, Steels, Recently Down, Lead Return to Upper Levels.

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1937, Standard Statistics Co.)
(1936 Average Equals 100.)

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net
20 Ind.	158.01	170.66	177.64	179.01	+1.35
20 R.R.	53.25	53.25	53.25	53.25	0
20 U.S.	34.75	35.25	34.75	34.75	0
40 Bonds	105.00	105.00	105.00	105.00	0
10 First rails	113.75	113.75	113.75	113.75	0
10 Second rails	106.25	106.25	106.25	106.25	0
10 U.S. 100	106.25	106.25	106.25	106.25	0
10 Ind.	106.25	106.25	106.25	106.25	0

Dow-Jones Averages.

STOCKS.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net
20 Ind.	158.01	170.66	177.64	179.01	+1.35
20 R.R.	53.25	53.25	53.25	53.25	0
20 U.S.	34.75	35.25	34.75	34.75	0

WHAT STOCKS DID.

Advances 156
Declines 464
Unchanged 185

Total Issues 904,832

By FREDERICK GARDNER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The stock market regained its equilibrium today as faint hopes were aroused for the automotive labor controversy through governmental mediation.

Motors and steels, leaders of the recent retreat, pointed the way toward a rally which spread over virtually all groups and put the favorites up in fractions to more than three points. A few registered much wider advances.

The comeback was accomplished on larger volume, transfers totaling 1,

972,000 shares, compared with 1,501,

843 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks retained a net gain of .6 of a point at 63.7.

Helpful to the upward reversal, brokers said, was the realization many issues, having registered sharp declines from their recent peaks, may have already discounted to a considerable degree the danger of a strike problems which are at present confronted by the automotive labor sector. Short covering was also thought to have provided a prop for the wavering list.

The conference of President Roosevelt with Secretary of Labor Henry

Wallace, which was expected to bring about a settlement of the conflict between General Motors Corporation and the unions led to the thought means would be found by

Washington to bring about a settlement of the conflict between the two sides. The realization that the steps to be taken by the unions in response to General Motors' ultimatum, however, were being awaited with some concern in the financial district.

While wheat at Chicago dipped 2-3 to 3-1 cents a bushel, and corn was off 1-4 to 1-1-4, farm implement shares were prominent on the market machinery buying from the agricultural district was indicated.

Several rallies were inspired by the opinion of Chairman Jones, of Reconstruction Finance Corporation, that the loss of surcharges would be selected this year by traffic gains.

Selected utilities and oils did better, aided by improved earnings prospects. An assortment of speciarefined thought of increased dividends. Export copper prices dropped below their six-year tops and most red metal shares pointed moderately lower.

Renewed interest in the amusements was shown as box office reports from over the country indicated sharply expanding business.

Paramount, preferred was up

8-14 points at 178-1-4, a new high.

The common was ahead 1-1 at 25-1-4, also a new top. Advances were shown by Warner Brothers at 17-3-8 and Loew's at 60.

Conspicuous in the forward tide were General Motors at 63, Chrysler at 63-1-4, United States Steel 77-1-4,

Republic at 75-3-4, Westinghouse 146,

Western Union 70-3-4, Southern

44-7-8, Southern Railway 41-5-8,

Great Northern 41-5-8, Socoy-Vacuum

17-1-8, Wilson & Co. 91-2-8, Deere

100, American of New York 20-1-8,

Standard Oil of New York 68-7-8, and Continental Can 68.

Cottonseed Oil

and Cottonseed Products

MEMPHIS.

NEW YORK.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW YORK.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW YORK.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW YORK.

NEW ORLEANS.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1937.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE DEALINGS

BOND DEALINGS ON N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

DOMESTIC CORPORATES

RISE IN BOND TRADING

Speculative Liens Show Sensitivity to Hope for Strike's End.

Daily Bond Averages.

(Copyright, 1937, Standard Statistics Co.)
(1926 Average Equals 100.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are today's bond dealings on the New York Stock Exchange and

on the total sales of each bond:

(Sales in $1,000.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following are to-

COTTON PRICES STEADY
DURING DULL TRADINGFutures Remain Within Point or So of Closing Previous Day.

NEW YORK COTTON RANGE.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev.
Jan.	12.32	12.36	12.27	12.33	12.33
Feb.	12.30	12.34	12.24	12.32	12.31
Mar.	12.28	12.32	12.19	12.29	12.28
Apr.	12.26	12.30	12.16	12.27	12.26
May	12.24	12.28	12.14	12.25	12.24
June	12.22	12.26	12.12	12.23	12.22
July	12.20	12.24	12.10	12.21	12.20
Aug.	12.18	12.22	12.08	12.19	12.18
Sept.	12.16	12.20	12.06	12.17	12.16
Oct.	12.14	12.18	12.04	12.15	12.14
Nov.	12.12	12.16	12.02	12.13	12.12
Dec.	12.10	12.14	12.00	12.11	12.10

NEW YORK SPOT COTTON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Spot cotton closed steady, middling 12.31.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON RANGE.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev.
Jan.	12.32	12.36	12.27	12.33	12.33
Feb.	12.30	12.34	12.24	12.32	12.31
Mar.	12.28	12.32	12.19	12.29	12.28
Apr.	12.26	12.30	12.16	12.27	12.26
May	12.24	12.28	12.14	12.25	12.24
June	12.22	12.26	12.12	12.23	12.22
July	12.20	12.24	12.10	12.21	12.20
Aug.	12.18	12.22	12.08	12.19	12.18
Sept.	12.16	12.20	12.06	12.17	12.16
Oct.	12.14	12.18	12.04	12.15	12.14
Nov.	12.12	12.16	12.02	12.13	12.12
Dec.	12.10	12.14	12.00	12.11	12.10

NEW ORLEANS SPOT COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 5.—Spot cotton closed steady, middling 12.31.

CHICAGO COTTON RANGE.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev.
Jan.	12.32	12.36	12.27	12.33	12.33
Feb.	12.30	12.34	12.24	12.32	12.31
Mar.	12.28	12.32	12.19	12.29	12.28
Apr.	12.26	12.30	12.16	12.27	12.26
May	12.24	12.28	12.14	12.25	12.24
June	12.22	12.26	12.12	12.23	12.22
July	12.20	12.24	12.10	12.21	12.20
Aug.	12.18	12.22	12.08	12.19	12.18
Sept.	12.16	12.20	12.06	12.17	12.16
Oct.	12.14	12.18	12.04	12.15	12.14
Nov.	12.12	12.16	12.02	12.13	12.12
Dec.	12.10	12.14	12.00	12.11	12.10

AVERAGE PRICE.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 5.—(P) The average price of middling cotton at 10 southern spot markets today was 12.30 cents a pound.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, middling, f. o. b. 12.30.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 5.—(P)

Cotton prices made little progress in either direction today in a dull market here.

Most of the day was spent with futures within a point or so of the previous close. At the end of dealings the market was 1 to 2 points lower and the volume of business was limited.

March closed at 12.27, May at 12.14, October at 11.70 and December at 11.77 bid. Middling spot cotton closed unchanged at 12.31 with sales reported at 365 bales.

Apparently there were too many uncertainties ahead for either the trade or professionals to take an active market stand. The President's message to Congress tomorrow was being awaited by cotton interests in hopes that it would include a good idea of administration plans for the next four years.

The impending sale of loan cotton continued a depressing influence. A report that the administration was receiving the President's message in minimum price on 10 days' notice was interpreted by cotton economists as meaning that the general cotton price would be largely determined by Washington.

Foreign markets were quiet, with the parity between American and foreign cotton widening in the Liverpool market. This was attributed to the increase in freight rates for transshipping American cotton to the English seaport.

Little important price change was expected by the trade until several of the northern problems have been eliminated.

Port receipts 18,617; week 53,987; season 5,275,446; last season 3,607,808. Stocks 2,832,120. Stocks on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston were 162,458; last year 162,200.

COTTON DIP MODERATE ON N. Y. EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(P)

Moderate declines in cotton today under commission house liquidation were practically recovered when trade buying appeared late in the afternoon.

March, which had eased from 12.34 to 12.24, closed at 12.31, with final futures 1 point net higher to 4 lower.

The market opened unchanged to 4 lower in response to Liverpool cables and under liquidation and hedge selling. Some Wall Street and spot house selling eased prices to ease to net losses of 6 to 8 points during the afternoon but trade support steadied the tone in late dealings.

Business was restricted owing to uncertainties in the legislative outlook, the automobile strike, and pending clarification of certain details of the plan for release of loan cotton commencing February 1.

Exports today 14,340, making a total of 3,080,277 for the season thus far. Port receipts 18,617. United States port stocks, 2,829,918.

Federal Land Bank.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Federal Land Bank

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

4 1/2% 1937-40 100 104 104

N. Y. CURB EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange giving all stocks and bonds traded:

STOCKS.

Sales (in 100s). Div. High. Low. Close.

Adams Exp. (100) 111 111 111 111

A. T. & T. (100) 101 101 101 101

Alcoa (100) 101 101 101 101

Alum. Co. of Am. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Can. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Cel. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Chem. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Cit. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Cl. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Col. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Cst. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Engr. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Ex. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Ind. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Int. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Lbr. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Mfg. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Nat. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Oil (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. P. & W. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. R. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. S. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. T. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. U. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. V. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. W. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. X. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Y. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Z. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. A. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. B. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. C. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. D. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. E. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. F. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. G. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. H. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. I. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. J. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. K. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. L. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. M. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. N. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. O. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. P. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Q. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. R. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. S. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. T. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. U. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. V. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. W. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. X. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Y. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Z. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. A. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. B. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. C. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. D. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. E. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. F. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. G. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. H. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. I. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. J. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. K. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. L. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. M. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. N. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. O. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. P. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Q. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. R. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. S. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. T. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. U. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. V. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. W. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. X. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Y. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. Z. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. A. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. B. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. C. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. D. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. E. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. F. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. G. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. H. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. I. (100) 101 101 101 101

Am. J. (100) 101 101 101 101

CURB STOCKS ADVANCE
DURING ACTIVE TRADINGAluminum of America Gains
5 1/4 Points To Lead Upward.

FORTY-YEAR SENTENCE FOLLOWS BY 16 HOURS CAPTURE OF GANGSTER

Harry Reeves Confesses Part in Dynamite Killing of One Member.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Harry Reeves, 36, who confessed he saw his gang wipe out one of its members with five tons of dynamite, was sentenced today to 40 years in prison for robbery, 16 hours after his capture.

Search for Reeves, William Nesbeth, Sioux City bartender, and Lee Bradley, former South Dakota convict and bank robber, started New Year's Eve after Mrs. Helen Sieler, 25, of Sioux City, wounded by eight bullet wounds, gasped out a story of a gangland powderhouse execution near Sioux Falls, S. D.

Nesbeth and Bradley still are fugitives. Woodbury County Sheriff William R. Tice and a deputy captured Reeves last night at the near-by farm of William Rice.

"He told us early today," the sheriff said, "he didn't join up with Nesbeth and Bradley until a week after the Ehrleman Jewelry Company in Sioux City was robbed of $36,000 in diamonds and $1,000 in cash, December 22."

Shortly after noon, however, officers obtained a robbery confession. "Reeves' confession," the sheriff said, "says Bradley and Nesbeth took part in the robbery and that Baker and the Sieler woman knew about it. He claims, though, that the woman was the only one marked for execution for fear she would 'squeal' about the robbery."

He said Baker and Bradley got into a fight, that the woman was shot when she jumped between them, and that one of the bullets set off the powderhouse blast which killed Baker."

SIX INJURED COASTING.
BERLIN, N. H., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Six children were critically injured tonight when a double-runner sled on which they were coasting down a steep side street sidwheeled an automobile. The children, whose ages range from 6 to 11, were taken to a hospital here.

For Comfort
DR. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES
By Shew
216 Peachtree Street

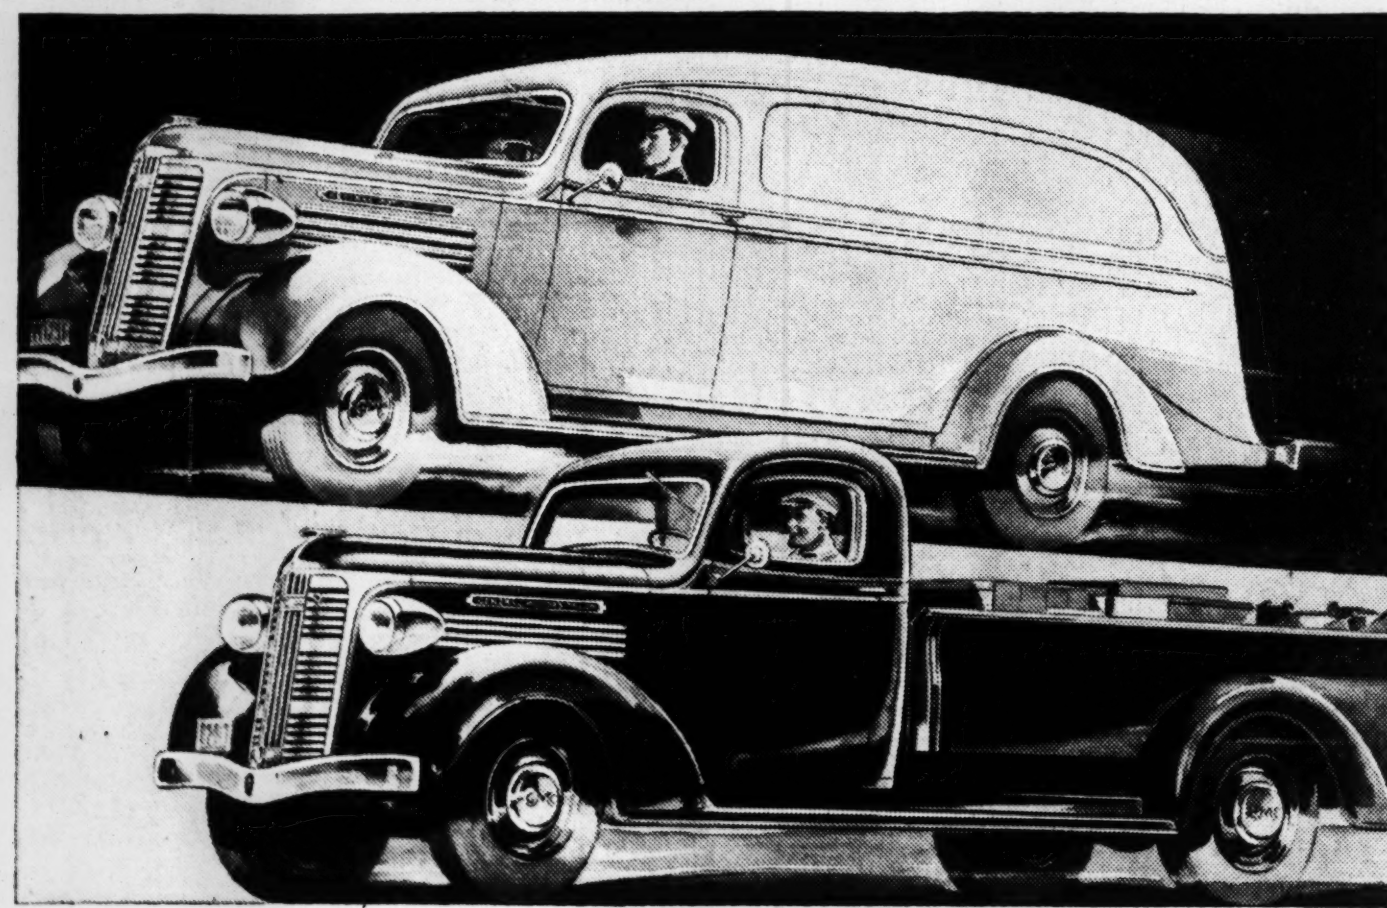

FOR THREE DAYS ONLY—JAN. 7, 8 and 9

We invite you to attend our free demonstration and investigate our "Common Sense" control of without use of injurious springs, elastic belts, adhesive plasters or tape, straps or buckles. No pressure on bones of hip or back. Nothing to retard circulation or injure nerve centers. Since 1858 our "Common Sense" supports have given relief, real help and comparative comfort to many thousands of men, women and children. THIS IS YOUR CHANCE TO INVESTIGATE. It will cost you nothing and may help you a lot.

RUPTURE--Hernia

IF PLEASED, ORDER NOW. PAY NEXT WEEK OR NEXT MONTH.
ASK FOR WM. H. BAKER AT HOTEL ROBERT FULTON
9 A. M. TO 9 P. M. OTHER HOURS BY APPOINTMENT.

HERE NOW!
the new 1937 GMC half-ton light delivery
TRUCKS . . . with

Advanced Stream-styling—Distinctive appearance that will prove an asset to any owner.

112" and 126" Wheelbases—The
126" chassis available with panel body 8 ft. 5 in. long or pickup body 7 ft. 7 in. in length; the 112" chassis with a panel body 7 ft. 3 in. long or a pickup body 6 ft. 5 in. in length.

Improved Performance and Economy—The rugged 6-cylinder engine with its many quality features such as electro-hardened aluminum pistons, complete full-pressure lubrication, harmonic balancer and GMR cylinder head, is more efficient and more economical than ever as a result of improvements and refinements.

Greater Safety—In addition to refinements that contribute to such safety factors as driving ease and performance, the new 1/2-ton GMC's have exceptionally large time-tested GMR hydraulic brakes that assure quick, certain non-swerving stops.
Bigger Values—At their extremely low prices, these big GMC trucks—"truck-built"—as they are by the world's largest makers of commercial vehicles exclusively—are unsurpassed values.

$395 AND UP
CHASSIS, P.O. DENTON

For every hauling need, there is an "engineered-for-the-job" GMC truck or truck with trailer that is an exceptional value. And to safeguard your investment, nationwide service facilities are always available.

GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK & COACH DIV.
231 IVY STREET

MITCHELL MOTORS
330 PEACHTREE ST., N. E.
ATLANTA

MEDCALF PONTIAC MOTOR CO.
126 W. COURT SQUARE
DECATUR

GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS & TRAILERS

American Dog Travels On Diplomatic Passport

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—"Big Boy," 2-year-old Boston terrier, sailed with his master, Fletcher Warren, consul and secretary of the American legation in Riga, Latvia, aboard the liner Manhattan today—first dog, as far as anyone can remember, to travel on a diplomatic passport.

"In many countries," explained Warren, "it is difficult to take a dog through. So last July, while I was consul in Nicaragua, I had this passport drawn up."

The passport, bearing the photograph and pedigree of "Big Boy," certifies that the dog was born in San Antonio, Texas, September 6, 1934, that he is in good health, and has been to Nicaragua and back. Warren's American home is in Greenville, Texas.

World Wide Briefs By Wire and Cable

BARNEY RAPP TO WED.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Barney Rapp, orchestra leader, today announced he would be married tomorrow to his pretty brunette vocalist, Ruby Wright, of Anderson, Ind., and will leave the following day on a West Indies cruise.

"RED" PLOT UNCOVERED.
ISTANBUL, Turkey, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Turkish police seized numerous persons today for what they called "a great Communist plot." The Turkish post, Nazim Hikmet, was reported placed under strict police surveillance because of his liberal views.

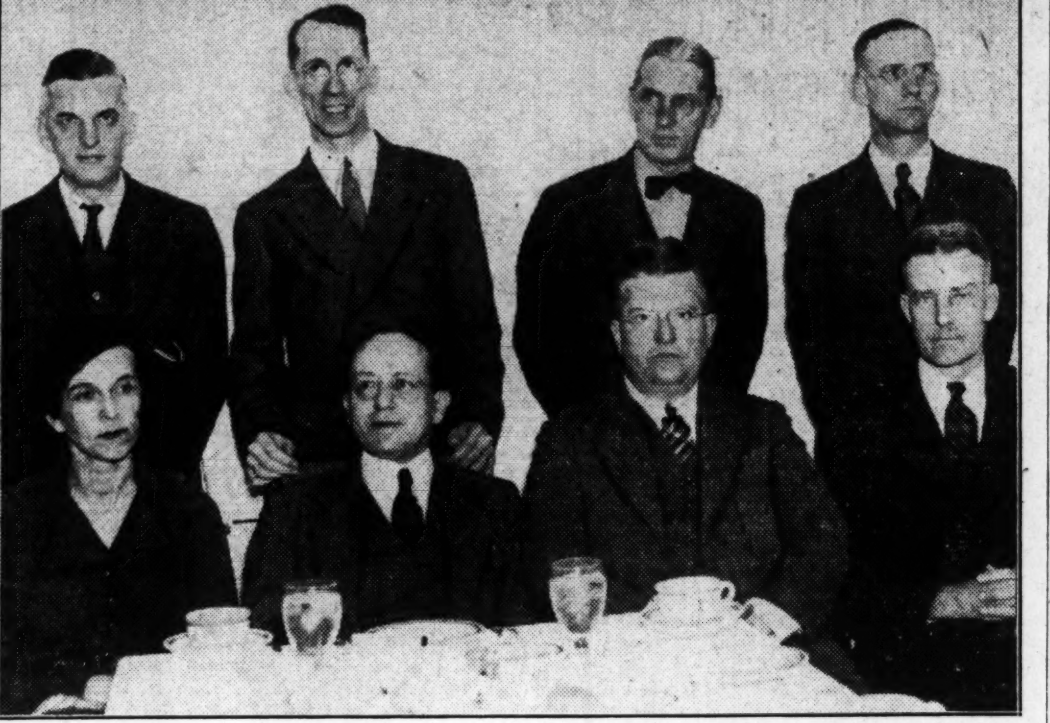

TRAVEL TO ARGENTINA.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Increased trade between the United States and Argentina is predicted for 1937 in a statement made today by Dr. Roberto Ortiz, Argentine minister of the Interior. Buenos Aires is the Argentine Information Bureau revealed.

MINISTER IS DECORATED.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Patrick Cardinal Hayes tonight presented Antonio C. Gonzalez, United States minister to Ecuador, with the decoration of a knight commander of the Order of St. Gregory, one of the highest papal honors accorded to laymen.

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Predicting "surprising support" from the south, Representative Thomas F. Ford, Los Angeles Democrat, introduced today an anti-lynching bill.

FLYER HURT IN CRASH.
MARCH FIELD, RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 5.—(UP)—An army flyer, Lieutenant David G. Pressnell, was seriously hurt tonight when a big Martin bomber crashed and burned three miles south of the landing field here.

Legislators Seek End to Overlapping Governments

Constitution Staff Photo—Miles.

Legislation affecting Fulton and DeKalb counties was discussed last night at a joint meeting of the two delegations shown above. From left to right, seated, are Mrs. Helen Douglas Mankin, W. G. Hastings, Mel Turner and Augustine Sams. Standing, left to right, are W. C. Kendrick, G. Everett Millican, Paul L. Lindsay and C. Murphy Candler.

End of Overlapping Governments Will Be Sought by Fulton Solons

Legislators Discuss Introduction of Bills To Effect Economy and Increase Efficiency in Atlanta and Fulton County.

Consolidation of overlapping departments in the governments of Atlanta and Fulton county will be discussed this week by members of the Fulton legislative delegation with the view of introducing bills effecting economy and increased efficiency.

This determination was expressed following a meeting of the Fulton and DeKalb delegations last night at which the DeKalb legislators declared they could not at this time agree to legislation affecting that part of the city which lies in DeKalb county. Constitutional stipulations prevent a county referendum being called for voting consolidation of city and county governments where the city lies in two counties.

Legislation to require six months' residence in the city before a person can qualify for free hospitalization and relief, was agreed upon by both delegations. This proposed legislation will not affect emergency cases, it was pointed out.

Seek License Increase.
The Fulton legislators sought support of DeKalb on a bill that will permit the city to increase its maximum business license from $300 to $750, but no definite action was taken.

A reduction from 25 per cent to 15 per cent in the percentage of total registered voters required to sign a petition for recall of an official was agreed upon and will be sponsored in the next session of the legislature. Extension of the term of the recorders of Atlanta until 1939 to prevent the necessity of holding an election in an off-election year will be advocated by the delegations. The term now expires in 1938. Changes in the election of aldermen and councilmen were also suggested in an effort to avoid possibility of an entire

6 TO DIE THURSDAY FOR ONE SLAYING

200 Mothers and Relatives Pray in Street Before Leh- man's Home.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Six men with less than two days of life before them prepared tonight to die in Sing Sing prison while their mothers, wives, sisters and relatives gathered in the street before Governor Lehman's Park avenue home.

The district attorney who sent them to death cells hurried a special report on their case to the Governor at Albany.

"Save the boys! Have pity on their mothers!" moaned an estimated 200 women—mothers, relatives and friends—as they knelt in the avenue before the Governor's home.

Puzzled police kept quiet guard but did not disturb the vigil.

At Ossining, William F. X. Geoghan, district attorney for Kings county in which the six men killed in a subway collector for an estimated $30 each last September 2, talked long to the men and then departed to submit a report to the Governor.

Unless he recommended clemency and unless the Governor accepts the recommendation, the six, Samuel Kimmel, 22; Dominick Zizzo, 27; Eugene Bruno, 22; Joseph Bologna, 24; Theodore Dilonard, 30, and Salvatore Scata, 19, will be executed Thursday night.

J. R. SLOCOMB PASSES IN DALLAS HOSPITAL

J. R. Slocumb, 36, southeastern representative of R. C. A. with headquarters in Atlanta for the past two years, died yesterday in the Methodist hospital in Dallas, Texas. Funeral services and burial will be held today in Smithville, Texas.

Mr. Slocumb, well known by merchants and radio dealers throughout the southeastern states, was injured in an automobile accident near Dallas on January 1 where he was en route to visit relatives.

NORTH GEORGIA WATER ROLLING TOWARD SEA

By The Associated Press.
Receding rivers in north Georgia sent high waters rushing to the sea yesterday, but little damage from floods is expected in the southern part of the state.

Rains continued in the interior, but the Atlanta weather bureau said precipitation would not be heavy enough to cause a further rise in north Georgia rivers.

Workers at Macon where the Ocmulgee river threatened to break through a levee reported the "boll" under control. The Ocmulgee reached 19.14 feet, a foot above flood stage, but was not expected to go much higher.

The Chattahoochee at Atlanta and Savannah river were receding. Residents along the Altamaha, fed by the Ocmulgee and Clinch rivers, were reported preparing for high waters near Greenville in a "few days."

UNITED STATES ARE HELD AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Mrs. Hannah Winer, widow of Isaac Winer, and prominent former resident of Columbus, who died Sunday at a Baltimore hospital. Rites were held at Striffler mortuary, with Dr. F. L. Rosenthal, of the Temple B'nai Israel, conducting the service.

Since the death of her husband early in 1936, Mrs. Winer had been living with a son in Baltimore. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Milton Greenbaum, of Baltimore; Mrs. S. E. Nissenbaum, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. L. Levine, of Chattanooga; three sons, Sol and Henry Winer, of Baltimore, and Louis Winer, of Washington. Grandchildren include Alvin and Helene Nissenbaum, of Atlanta; Albert Winer, of Baltimore; Leonard and Stanley Greenbaum, of Baltimore, and Jay L. Levine Jr., of Chattanooga.

FREE SMOKE PREPARED ON SMOKE PREVENTION

Printed instructions on how to build and tend fires to eliminate the largest percentage of smoke possible will be available for Atlantans in the near future, Andrew Jones, smoke inspector, announced last night.

A careful study of methods taken by leading eastern and mid-western cities in fighting the smoke menace is being made by local authorities and will be included in the booklet, he said.

Special instruction to janitors on how to lay and tend fires is being offered janitors free. Fifty per cent of the smoke comes from fires not tended properly, Jones said.

TRAIN WRECKERS PAROLED.

TEXARKANA, Texas, Jan. 5.—(AP)—District Judge R. H. Harvey paroled into custody of their parents today three negro children who confessed to wrecking a Cotton Belt passenger train near Corley, Texas, December 15 with loss of one life.

CONES INAUGURATED TO SUCCEED SHOLTZ AS FLORIDA GOVERNOR

New Chief Executive Pledges Economy, Better Schools, Old Age Pensions.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Fred P. Cone, 61-year-old lawyer, banker and farmer from "way down upon the Suwannee river," became Governor of Florida today with a promise the state government will not spend money unauthorized by the legislature.

He sharply criticized the administration of retiring Governor Dave Sholtz for "excessive, unnecessary and unauthorized" expenditures by governmental agencies, especially the State Road Department, the Racing Commission and several boards.

Cone said it was "a disgrace to the state of Florida" the way the Road Department and the Racing Commission "wasted" money. He singled out the Road Department's establishment of a highway patrol and its purchase of an airplane, said these were not authorized by the legislature, and added "if that goes on we may have submarines running around in lakes for the amusement of the people."

Sholtz Reviews Term.
Sholtz, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, reviewed his four years in office, termed them "four years of great progress" for Florida, and praised President Roosevelt and the New Deal for co-operating with this state in its recovery efforts.

[The inauguration ceremony, held on the east steps of the capitol with traditional trimmings of top hats, gubernatorial salute of 19 guns, administration of the oath of office by Chief Justice J. B. Whitfield, of the supreme court, and the passing of the great seal of state from Sholtz to Cone—was witnessed by Floridians from all parts of the state.]

Cone, in an extemporaneous address, said only by a few penciled notes on a scrap of paper, said he would see to it that no state funds were spent except those authorized by the legislature, would add no new taxes, would practice economy, would hand out only those jobs actually needed, would advocate increased salaries for cabinet officers, and would not cut paychecks.

Schools, Pensions.
Public schools and old age pensions, he declared, must be adequately financed with funds which would be certain collection. He said a greatly increased effort was now to raise five or six million dollars a year for old age pensions with imposing new taxes, but believed he could do it through rigid economy.

Cone should advertise itself and its advantages, Cone said, but the advertisement of good government, of public safety and of hospitality is better than the kind inserted in newspapers and magazines.

Cone asked for the resignation of all appointed officials who served under Sholtz. Members of the Road Commission, the Racing Commission and a few others already have quit. The Governor said he would announce his major appointments soon.

Rivers at Inaugural.
Near the new Governor at his inaugural parade review stand the Rivers, Adjutant General-elect J. E. Stoddard, of the Georgia National Guard; Charles S. Reed, chairman of the Georgia state democratic executive committee, and W. F. Scott, chief of Rivers' staff, from Thomasville, Georgia.

Governor-elect Rivers was surrounded by former Georgians who bid him welcome.

The parade, which required 25 minutes to pass the inaugural reviewing stand, was delayed for a quarter of an hour as crowds surged past the national guardsmen to get closer to their new chief executive.

FEDERAL AGENCIES ACT TO SETTLE AUTO STRIKE

Walkout Spreads as Workers
'Sit Down' at G.M.C.
Plant at Janesville, Wis.

By The Associated Press.
DETROIT, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Federal agencies took an active hand today in seeking negotiations to conciliate labor-management differences in automotive plants of the General Motors Corporation, where nearly 50,000 workers are idle.

Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, said a "general stoppage of General Motors is underway," adding a pledge of co-operation to "all government agencies seeking to conciliate."

The stoppage spread to Janesville, Wis., this afternoon as union members "sat down" at their jobs in the Chevrolet assembly plant and the Fisher Body Works, halting production and leaving 2,500 employees idle.

Secretary Perkins carried to President Roosevelt reports of labor department field agents on the automotive strike situation, deadlocked more than ever by General Motors' refusal to recognize "any one union" as sole bargaining agent for its employees.

A statement by Miss Perkins that the United Automobile Workers tomorrow, subsequently was described by the labor secretary as erroneous. She said there had been an error in transmitting a report to her from Dewey, Labor Department conciliator.

James F. Dewey, a department of labor conciliator, arrived in Detroit today to confer with corporation and union officials.

The special senate committee on civil liberties violations at Washington announced it has subpoenaed records of General Motors, and that "high officials" of the corporation may be called to testify at hearings beginning January 14.

Martin at a press conference said Circuit Judge Edward D. Black, who issued the injunction, owned 3,665 shares of General Motors Corporation stock with a market value of $219,900, and at Flint the judge said: "I own some" stock in General Motors but declined to state the amount.

Martin said later that the union counsel will institute court action seeking injunction of Judge Black and also endeavor to have him disbarred.

WILLIAM D. RUSSELL DIES.
GREENFIELD, Mass., Jan. 5.—(AP)—William Deano Russell, 85, pioneer in the paper manufacturing business in this section and New York city, died suddenly last night. He was a member of the first graduating class of Massachusetts State College 1871.

Contract Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily installments.

FORCING BIDS.
The object of a forcing bid is to keep the bidding low, in order to select the best contract for the combined hands, and yet to make certain that the bidding is kept open in case it is desirable to reach a game or higher contract. The word "forcing" means just what it says. There is no such thing as a "forcing bid" which may be passed. A forcing bid is either forcing to game or forcing for one round.

Bids Which Are Forcing to Game.
When a bid is forcing to game it imposes simultaneously an obligation on both partners, the one who forces and the one who is forced. A "forcing situation" exists and both partners are supposed to continue the bidding until a game is reached or the opponents are doubled for penalties. Neither partner may pass unless an opponent bids, thus assuring the other partner another chance.

A bid of exactly one more trick than is necessary, whether an opening bid, a raise, or a rebid, and whether in a suit or in no-trump, is, with rare exceptions, forcing to game.

TODAY'S HAND.
West, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 10 6 3
♥ K J 7
♦ 7 6
♣ J 10 7 6

WEST
♠ A K 2
♥ Q 5 4 2
♦ 3 2
♣ Q 9 5 4

EAST
♠ 8 6
♥ A 10 9 8 4
♦ A 8 3 2
♣ J 9 8 5 4

SOUTH
♠ J 9 8 5 4
♥ A 10 9 3
♦ K 5
♣ K

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass 3 diamonds 3 spades
3 no trump 4 spades Pass Pass
Double Pass Pass Pass

East's bid was distinctly unorthodox and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

West opened the three of diamonds and also of questionable worth. His holding was by no means defenseless and, on the other hand, did not have enough playing tricks to warrant a bid for nine tricks. South, acquainted with East's bidding habits, felt that he was attempting a "fast one" hence the three-spade bid. South was at a double on account of his singleton club.

WORRY TAKES WEIGHT FROM MRS. SIMPSON; WARDROBE IS ALTERED

Corps of Seamstresses Sent to Cannes to 'Cut Down' Her Dresses.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson has lost 10 pounds from constant worry and emotional strain since her separation from former King Edward, her Paris couturiere told the United Press tonight.

Always tall and slender, she has lost so much weight in the last six weeks that a corps of fitters and seamstresses have been sent to Cannes, on the Riviera, to "cut down" her expensive wardrobe.

At the villa of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, where she is in seclusion until she can obtain her final divorce decree and marry Edward, two rooms have been converted into a sewing establishment where tucks and seams are being taken in.

A luxurious white ermine cape, one of Edward's last and most lavish gifts, has been altered and a full-length coat of blue tulle and silk has been fitted to her thinner figure.

A costume, delivered to the Rogers villa two weeks ago, found to be far too large, having been cut in conformity with Mrs. Simpson's measurements of last November.

Paris and Riviera social sets spread a report today that after their marriage the thoughts of Mrs. Wallis Warfield April, the Duke of Windsor and his bride will spend their honeymoon at the Sonnenberg (Sunny mountain) castle of the Archduke and Archduchess Anton of Hapsburg in lower Austria.